TWOTHOUSAND MEN MARCH FOR LABOR AND HEAR TALKS

Parade of Toilers Is Remarkable Demonstration in Sympathy with Rubber Workers

BIG MASS MEETING FOLLOWS

Organizers and Special Orators Talk to Capacity Audiences of Union Men at Linker Hall

According to union official figures, union men and women of La Crosse to the number of two thousand and one hundred and twenty-five, marched down the town streets of La Crosse last night accompanied by a large number of demonstrators. The parade wound up with a mass meeting at Linker hall, at which men lined the walls, packed the reserve space in the rear of the auditorium, and overflowed into the lobby.

Main street, from Second to Sixth streets, was alive with people packed at places from the gutters to the line of the buildings as the union men passed in double formation. A special body of police was necessary at Fourth and Main streets to keep the crowd from occupying the space reserved for the marchers. Loud cheers went up from the sidewalks at intervals, and friendly feeling was evidenced in outbursts of applause on every part of the line of march.

A special guard of four policemen, followed by a union band led the procession. Banners were carried by the different unions.

Fred H. Hartwell, attorney for the union rubber workers, newspaper men and labor organizers headed representations from every trade union in La Crosse. The number participating in the parade exceeded even the expectations of those who originally planned the demonstration. Official notice of the event had been given to the heads of trade unions about a few hours previous. The parade left Market square at about 7:30 o'clock, proceeding west on Pearl street to Front street; then to Main street, from which it was turned into State street from Sixth street, returning to Fourth and Main streets and disbanding in front of Linker hall.

Attorney Hartwell arrived in La Crosse on an early evening train from Cincinnati, Ohio. He joined the ranks of the union men as they moved from Market square north on Fourth street.

Police guarded the entrance to Linker building while the rubber workers and other union men, and scores of other persons entered. None other than friendly feelings were shown by those attending.

Those addressing the large audience were J. C. Wolford, president of the La Crosse Trades and Labor Council; John D. Chubbuck, labor organizer here who spoke in defense of the rubber workers; John L. Devring, national organizer of the teamsters' union; and Judge Clinton W. Hunt.

When John D. Chubbuck, spokesman of the evening, introduced Judge Hunt, a cheer which lasted several minutes went up in the large hall. He came forward from the rear of the hall, but before he could speak a quartette greeted him with a song.

Union Labor Elects Hunt
"I was literally pushed into the office of police justice against my will," said Judge Hunt. "I had many times refused to think of running for the office. Unbeknownst to me on the last day on which nomination papers were filed, my friends took out the papers for me. I was elected by those in this room tonight."

Organizer Chubbuck spoke in guarded terms of the lockout situation of the two hundred rubber workers, and blamed in stringent terms the fact that the workers had not been granted a hearing by the employers. He said another effort would be made to have a hearing granted.

Chubbuck advanced the political theories of the American Federation of Labor. "There are those," he said, "who maintain that organized labor is not on a proper basis, and does not comply with the best interests of the country's welfare."

"We believe in woman suffrage," he said, "give the woman the ballot and we will have better conditions; unions stand for enforcement and enactment of child labor laws, and government control of telegraph and telephone lines and above all the referendum and the recall and the initiative."

Organizer Devring spoke to the audience briefly. He also dwelt on the central ideas of trade unionism.

Workingmen Like Israelites
"What may be termed an organization of working men similar to the unions of today was founded by the Israelites in bondage in Egypt six hundred years before the Christian era, when they banded together to defeat their captors," said Devring, "and they were only doing what the working people of today are doing—banding together in an organization to further the good of the great mass of humanity."

Devring painted the labor situation in the United States black.

"The labor organizer," he said,

FREE BRIDGE DAY

Why not a FARMERS' DAY to celebrate the opening of the FREE BRIDGE?

Let the city invite the people of Houston and Winona counties to make a day of it in La Crosse the first day upon which the bridge is free.

Details for their reception can easily be arranged. A score of interesting features suggest themselves. But passing details, it is sufficient to say that our neighbors should be cordially received and royally entertained.

The abolition of the bridge tolls will be of vast importance to La Crosse and to this entire section. Particularly is it of interest to the people in this trade area, across the river. They'll feel like having a blow-out, and the city feels exactly as they do.

Let's have committees from the Board of Trade, the Progressive League, the Merchants' and Grocers' associations, to work out the plans for FREE BRIDGE DAY.

ALDERMEN MAY LEVY SPECIAL TAX FOR HIGH SCHOOL

Proposed $50,000 Bond Issue for Contemplated Building Meets Vigorous Opposition

REFERRED TO INCOMING BODY

Fair Association to Be Given Ten Year Lease to the Grounds Without Conditions Thereto

Plans to put $50,000 into the tax budget for the next two years by levying an assessment of one mill each year instead of issuing bonds for the proposed north side high school are being discussed by the aldermen.

When the city council meets tonight, the proposed bonding ordinance offered by the board of education will not be discussed. The entire matter of raising funds for the proposed building will be turned over to the new city council which will be seated April 20.

At the joint committee meeting last night, when sketches were submitted by the board of education, covering plans for the new high school and north side library building, will be housed in the same building. Alderman William Torrance led vigorous opposition against further bond issues on the part of the city. He declared the city's bonded indebtedness now exceeds $1,384,000 and urged the aldermen to make a special tax levy for school purposes and pay for the building outright instead of passing another bond issue. In 29 years, he said, the proposed bond issue of $50,000 will cost the city $90,000 if the issue is made as contemplated by the ordinance now before the committee.

Wants School to Wait
Alderman William Collins asked the school board to wait another year before erecting the north side high school, and it was on his motion that the aldermen resolved to visit the high school after noon to investigate the alleged overcrowded conditions. The committee in charge of the ordinance allowing the fair association another lease on the fair grounds will report to the council tonight favoring the renewal of the association's ten year lease on the property without any conditions thereto. Aldermen proposed to compel the association to remove the horse sheds along the Campbell road and substitute a metal or picket fence, but the directors represented that such an order would work a hardship as they had no funds.

BOOM FOR "MADE IN U. S. A."

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The "Made in U. S. A." movement was given a big boost today when plans for furthering the "home patronage" campaign were made at a general meeting of the national committee of the Woman's National "Made in U. S. A." league.

WACO CHAMBER INTERVENES

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The Waco Commerce chamber was permitted today to intervene in the Dallas chamber's Santa Fe and other railroads traffic rates from St. Louis and Kansas City are unreasonable.

ASSEMBLYMAN OF MILWAUKEE LEAPS TO DEATH TODAY

Christopher Paulus of Milwaukee, Candidate for the Speakership, Jumps Ten Floors

HUNDREDS WATCH HIS DEED

Practically Every Bone in Body Crushed on Pavement Before Bank Building

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 9.—Assemblyman Christopher Paulus leaped from the tenth floor of the First National bank building today and was instantly killed.

Paulus prepared for his leap with a deliberation that petrified hundreds of persons in the street below. He was seen to climb onto a window ledge and stood upright for fully a minute with his back to the street. He attracted only slight attention at first, as it was believed that he was a window washer. Then he turned suddenly around, poised for an instant facing the street and leaped.

Every Bone Broken
He turned completely over twice and struck on his head. Practically every bone in his body was crushed and death was instantaneous. The body narrowly missed a group of men who were entering the bank and one leg struck a bicycle which a messenger had just parked at the curb.

The room from which Paulus jumped was vacant. He was an accountant and insurance agent and was engaged in the former capacity by a firm occupying rooms on the tenth floor of the building. He came to work as usual this morning and none of the employees of the firm noticed anything out of the ordinary in his actions, save that he spoke to no one.

Paulus is said to have recently exhibited signs of mental aberration and steps were to be taken to have a commission investigate his sanity. He recently became involved in financial difficulties, overdrawing his account at a local bank to the extent of $900. The checks were cashed by a local department store. The matter was settled out of court.

Candidate for Speaker

In the campaign for legislative offices he was a candidate for the speakership of the house and made an active canvass for the office, but his candidacy played little part in the organization of that body. He was elected to the assembly last fall. He leaves a widow and two children.

RECEIVER'S ACCOUNTS SHORT

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 9.—A shortage of between $16,000 and $20,000 in the accounts of former Congressman James H. Cassidy, ousted yesterday as receiver of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh Coal company, and the Standard Contracting company was reported to the federal court today.

PROCLAIMS ARBOR DAY

MADISON, Wis., April 9.—Gov. Philipp has proclaimed May 7 Arbor and Bird day. In the Wisconsin arbor and bird day annual just issued, the governor asks that the day be fittingly observed in all the public schools in the state.

WABASH BOARD TO PAY TREASURY OF ROAD $5,133,000

Court Rules That George J. Gould and Other Directors Are Personally Liable for Wrong Stock Issue

MUST PAY INTEREST SINCE 1913

Decision Comes in Suit of Stockholders to Recover for Illegal Issue Valued at $30,000,000

NEW YORK, April 9.—George J. Gould and other directors of the Wabash railroad were today held personally liable by the Appellate division of the supreme court for $5,133,000 for stock wrongly issued. They were directed to pay that amount into the railroad's treasury immediately.

Gould and the other defendants are expected to appeal to the court of appeals.

The decision today was in the suit of James Pollitz and other stockholders to recover damages for an alleged wrongful stock issue in 1913. The lower court held that a $30,000,000 issue was illegal, but the appellate division found that the wrongful issue amounted to only $5,133,000, with interest since October 15, 1913, for which the directors are held personally liable.

GOOD TIMES HERE SAYS SEC'Y LANE

Head of Department of Interior Returns to Desk After Three Weeks' Tour; Is Optimistic

NO TALK OF HARD TIMES IN WEST

Money Plentiful, Industry Active and Crops Good Cabinet Officer Declares

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Good times are not coming—they're here—in Secretary of the Interior Lane's opinion. Three weeks on the road and three days back in Washington convinced him, he said, that prosperity is with us. He believes there is more yet to come.

"People are not talking of hard times out in the west," he announced today. "They are not talking of it here. Half a dozen men in my office today, from various sections of the country, declare good times are with us."

"My prediction at San Francisco that in six months there will not be an idle man in this country, among those who want work, still stands. Everything points toward proving me a good prophet. Money is plentiful and cheap—call loans at 2 per cent in New York; exports booming; crops good; many lines of industry active above normal."

Asked if he based his opinion in part on the administration's plans for connecting the manless job and the jobless man, Secretary Lane said that while this effort of the labor department is expected to help, his confidence is due to what he considers a general trend toward better conditions.

"Many industries, of course, are benefited by the European war," he continued. "Many more will be benefited by its end, when the end comes. Even the steel mills, working overtime on war orders, will find an increased domestic demand—an accumulated demand—because of orders unfilled now."

"The rebuilding process in Europe is going to call on American industries more extensively than has the war."

"One product that will feel the call is lumber. Aside from the part Europe has played in depressing business generally, while helping some lines, there cannot be any doubt that good times are here and that better times are coming."

"Nobody knows what the issue in the next campaign will be," he said, "but the condition I've described wipes out the full dinner pail issue, if there was any danger that it would be raised."

TOWNS CONDEMN PROPOSED LAWS

The referendum resolutions sent to town meetings throughout Wisconsin by Senator Otto Bosshart and a number of legislative associates, condemning the administration's skim milk cheese bill, water power bill and the two-and-one-half passenger fare bill, were unanimously adopted by the town meetings of Bangor, Farmington, Campbell, Washington, Hamilton, Greenfield and Barre. There is a misunderstanding in Burns, one telephone message having declared they were adopted and another that they were defeated.

Returns in Madison from scattering counties indicate that the resolutions were passed in almost every town where they were submitted.

OFFENSIVE STARTS AGAINST TEUTONS ON BOTH FRONTS

In East and West the Allies Are Throwing Big Forces Against Enemy to Crush Austria

FRENCH HOLD TROOPS IN WEST

Fierce Attacks at St. Mihiel Designed to Keep Germany from Helping Her Ally

LONDON, April 9.—On two great battlefields, 700 miles apart, the allies are co-operating in a mighty attempt to crush Franz Josef's army and force Austria-Hungary to sue for peace.

Official and unofficial dispatches received here today indicated that the Russians are pressing forward into Hungary with the Austro-Germans in retreat at many points. The fierce drives of the French around St. Mihiel have caused the Germans to hurry there reinforcements originally designed to stem the Russian onslaughts in the Carpathians.

Austrian Losses 300,000?

A Bucharest dispatch today estimated the Austro-Hungarian losses in killed, wounded and prisoners in the defense of Hungary from invasion totaled more than 300,000. At least 100,000 of these were said to be prisoners.

Berlin claims that France's sudden offensive around St. Mihiel was directly lined with the Russian advance upon the Carpathian passes is generally accepted here. Though aiming to smash the St. Mihiel wedge, the savage attacks of the French armies south of Vardun are believed to have formed part of a plan of campaign worked out at Petrograd, Paris and London. Gen. Joffre is keeping the kaiser too busy to send more aid to the retreating Austrians.

Saves Warsaw

The same strategy, according to the French, saved Warsaw from Von Hindenburg after the Russian defeat in the Mazurian lakes. While the Slavs were falling back out of East Prussia in a disordered retreat their French allies began swift smashes against the German trenches in the Champagne. Von Hindenburg asked for reinforcements for a grand assault on Warsaw, but every man available was plugging the German line around Perthes.

Dead Choke Trenches

PARIS, April 9.—German trenches, so choked with mangled German corpses, the French troops were unable to occupy them, the woods full of dead and dying, were described in official dispatches today, telling of the terrible battles now raging around St. Mihiel.

So frightful has become the loss of life in the savage attacks against the German positions between St. Mihiel and Pont-a-Mousson and Etain that military operations actually are being hampered by the piles of dead bodies. Neither army has had time to go to the aid of its wounded, much less to bury the dead.

TEAMSTERS ARRANGE ANNUAL CONTRACT

A meeting of La Crosse team owners and their employees at which contracts will be signed by both parties will be held Saturday night.

"I can safely state that all difficulties between the owners and drivers have been settled," said John L. Devring, representative of the Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chicago.

Team drivers ask for a nine hour working day during five months of the year. They have not asked for an increase in wages.

ROADS WIN FARE BOOST

LANSING, Mich., April 9.—The railroad rate increase bill, establishing a sliding fare of between two and three cents per mile for Michigan railroads according to the earnings of the roads was finally enacted by the senate today. The vote was 24 to 6. The measure now goes to the house.

ELECTION COSTS MILLION

CHICAGO, April 9.—Figures compiled today show it cost Chicago taxpayers $425,000 to stage the recent municipal primary and election. Adding this sum to the primary and election campaign expenses of major candidates, the total reached $1,250,000.

REPORTED THAT ITALIAN STEAMERS ARE ORDERED NOT TO LEAVE AMERICA

ROME, April 9.—Government officials today refused to comment on a report that all Italian steamers in American ports have been ordered to postpone their sailings until April 20. Representatives of big shipping companies were equally reticent concerning the report which was widely circulated in Rome.

NEW YORK, April 9.—New York agents of the Lloyd's Italian line and of the Fabre line today said they had received no orders to hold up sailings of Italian steamers. They did not give Rome reports much credence and said they knew of no situation demanding a postponement of sailings. The Stampalia of Lloyd's Italiano line is due to sail Saturday morning.

LOCKED OUT MILL WORKERS MAY RETURN TO THEIR JOBS FOLLOWING CONFERENCE TODAY

City's Oldest Man Has a Birthday Near Century Mark

"Ninety-four years old today, and I read the TRIBUNE without glasses," was the salutation made by Robert W. Scott, 420 South Sixth street, today. Mr. Scott was sitting near an open window, contentedly reading.

Robert W. Scott, old time carpenter, and a resident of La Crosse since 1855, today celebrated his 94th anniversary. The day was spent in quiet, there being no daughter-in-law or grandchildren in his home to prepare a love feast for the day. He is living with his son, Bert, who today is out of the city.

Mr. Scott was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, April 9, 1821. His parents died when he was an infant, his early childhood being spent at Peebles with an uncle. In 1851 he came to this country, stopping off at Cleveland for a few days on his way to Milwaukee, where he spent three years, and where he was married in 1853. In 1855 Mr. and Mrs. Scott came to La Crosse. Mrs. Scott died twenty years ago. Three sons of four born to Mr. and Mrs. Scott are living, Frank and Bert of La Crosse, and Charles of Texas.

Built Many Early Homes

Immediately after coming to La Crosse, Mr. Scott engaged in the carpenter trade, building some of the earliest houses erected in La Crosse. At the time he came here the neighborhood around Sixth and Division streets, his present home, was a prairie. He used to shoot prairie chickens where the Norwegian Lutheran church now stands.

During the dull times during the war he worked in the south. When the war broke out, he enlisted in an army construction corps, where he made use of his knowledge of carpentering. He served for three years, and was discharged in 1863, after serving under Sherman in the memorable "march to the sea." He left the service at Nashville, proceeding to La Crosse immediately.

"I guess I am one of the few of the old soldiers left in La Crosse," he said. "Captain Moulton and John Coady and I have known each other for the last sixty years. I used to know the captain when he ran on the river."

Despite his extreme old age, Mr. Scott possesses the stamina of a man twenty years his junior. Although he has been virtually retired since he built the present homestead twenty years ago, he has, up to until recently been seen doing odd duties about the home.

He is thought to be the oldest man in La Crosse.

JULY FIRST SET TO OPEN BRIDGE TO FREE TRAFFIC

July 1, 1915, is the date set by the city council for making the Mississippi wagon bridge free, in the special free bridge ordinance, which will be introduced into the city council for its first and second reading tonight.

The ordinance will meet little opposition. Aldermen from some of the wards where the free bridge was opposed held an informal caucus last night following the committee meetings at the city hall and despite pressure from their constituents, declared they would abide by the vote of the people.

The terms of the ordinance retain for the council the right to repeal or restore the tolls on the wagon bridge at any time. The ordinance reads in part as follows:

"The common council of the city of La Crosse do ordain that on and after the first day of July, 1915, no toll or charge of any kind or in any amount shall be made or collected for the passage of any person, team, vehicle or animal traveling over the Mississippi river wagon bridge extending from the foot of Mount Vernon street in La Crosse, Wis., to Barron's Island, in the state of Minnesota."

UNION'S ATTORNEY HINTS AT PEACE IN RUBBER CAMP

Visit of Industrial Commissioner Beck Here Said to Augur Success for the Locked Out Men

That there may be a settlement of the difficulties existing between the La Crosse Rubber mills and two hundred locked out employees favorable to the latter was the information hinted at by Attorney Fred H. Hartwell, following a session with State Industrial Commissioner J. D. Beck this afternoon.

Mr. Beck was closeted the greater part of the morning with Albert and Arthur Funk, managers of the rubber mills, and he met in secret session this afternoon with Organizers J. D. Chubbuck, John Rae and John L. Devring.

Neither Mr. Albert nor Arthur Funk would have a word to say as to the outcome of the session with Mr. Beck. Mr. Beck clothed his mission to La Crosse in secrecy, even denying that he was "Mr. Beck" to a representative of the TRIBUNE.

Organizers are Silent
"We have absolutely nothing to say about the matter," said Chubbuck and Devring.

Several different factions were instrumental in bringing Commissioner Beck to La Crosse to intercede in behalf of the rubber workers in an endeavor to bring about a settlement.

"The matter of a settlement between the union men and rubber mills managers looks closer today than it ever did before," said Attorney Hartwell.

Commissioner Beck finished his sessions here and left for Madison on an afternoon train. He would not state, even to the union organizers, the outcome of his visit here, and did not say whether or not he would return to La Crosse.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 9.—With thoughts of death on European battlefields lending an atmosphere of subdued ardor to the exercises, the French pavilion at the Panama-Pacific exposition, was dedicated here today. Bands played the Marseillaise as the tri-color of France was raised.

MAYOR LOSES 50 WHEN CANVASSERS REACH TENTH WARD

Mayor Ori Sorensen lost another fifty votes today. His total vote is now reduced to 1,843.

The way it happened was this: Alderman William Collins, Paul W. Mahoney and Frank Kohn, who were appointed the official election canvassers, were going over the vote in the Tenth ward this morning.

They couldn't make the total vote jibe with the total registration, until they discovered that the judges had misread their reports. They had reported Ori Sorensen's vote 197, when it should have been 147. The official canvass will be reported to the council this evening.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

How the Little Ground Moles Keep House.

"I THINK I must tell you kiddies tonight how the little ground moles keep house," said daddy.
"Oh, daddy," said Evelyn, "moles don't live in a house! They live in the ground, I heard somebody say."
"Well, that's all right," answered daddy, smiling; "they keep house in the ground. I'll tell you about it."

"The daddy and mammy mole are very curious little creatures that you will find in New York state and Pennsylvania and very many of them in Dixie land, which is to say the south. They are much larger than a mouse, but not as large as a rat. They have a brownish gray fur that is very silky and pretty, about the prettiest far there is. They have large, strong feet that are ever so much like your hands, and they use them for making their little homes in the ground as comfortable as can be. They have a little central bedroom a few inches under the ground and very many channels or runways leading from this central chamber in all directions, so that they are apt to run, fresh from their bedroom, in almost any direction."

"And here is a curious thing, children, for the papa and mamma moles are very likely not to appear on top of the ground at all. They very often build these nests and tunnel these runways in the midst of a fine potato patch, and so they steal their meals from the farmer, and he cannot catch them at it. They run along these runways and eat a nice potato and bring back some of it to the little baby moles, which are very tiny and which lie in the funny little chamber waiting for their parents to bring their dinners."

"Moles are curious little creatures, and as they do not need to see in those dark tunnels you cannot see that they have any eyes at all. Some people say moles are blind, but others say they have eyes. However, this may be, if a mole happens to be on top of the ground and you approach him he will run away very fast, just as far away from you as he can get, as he is a very timid little creature. This may be because he has very good ears."

"The moles form a very happy little family all summer long, and by the time winter has come they have eaten many potatoes. The youngsters of the family have grown as large as their mammy and daddy by that time. Then, when the frost is in the ground, the little fellows are all very fat through eating so many potatoes. And then what do you suppose they do during the winter months before the spring has come again? Why, they sleep all through the long, cold season just like a bear, and then when the spring has come again the little moles are big moles and have families of their own."

Peter Perkins came into temporary possession of the old Stanwood property through mutual friends of his own and the last remaining member of the Stanwood family. He did not know Madge Stanwood, nor was he in any way interested in making the girl's acquaintance, so long as he had obtained a three years' lease on her property.

Peter was run down, physically, while the Miss Stanwood was financially embarrassed. The transfer of property was a step in the right direction for both parties concerned. It left Madge free to go into the city and pursue congenial labor, while Peter Perkins could seek the robust health he had lost in his effort to find that vague pedestal called fame. His channel had been through art. Peter had succeeded to a flattering degree before his health—or the lack of it—had sent him to the country.

The Stanwood property was sadly dilapidated. The gardens, both vegetable and floral, were all but wrecks; the lone cow was a pitiful sight to a lover of animals, while the few hens and rabbits were forlorn creatures. The orchard, once bearing choice and rare fruit, required pruning, lopping and care to an alarming extent, but with it all Peter felt sanguine as to the results he would obtain from healthy labor on the property.

Peter had worked with feverish inspiration on his art, and by so doing had arrived on the precipice of a nervous breakdown. The Stanwood place came as a blessing to him. Since he might not make further use of his brain during its process of rebuilding he rejoiced in the physical activity that would be demanded of him during his three years in the country.

It was difficult at first to fling off the inertia that gripped him after leaving the steam heated studio and his paints and models; but the trimming of shrubs that was necessary, since it was late autumn, sent Peter out with hedge scissors and an augmenting sense of zeal. Having come originally from the west, Peter was at heart adapted for outdoor life. Farming and the artist's tempera-

A Remedy For All Pain

"The efficiency of any drug" says Dr. C. P. Robbins, "is known to us by the results we obtain from its use. If we are able to control pain and disease by means of any preparation, we certainly are warranted in its use. One of the principal symptoms of a disease is pain, and this is what the patient most often applies to us for, i. e. something to relieve his pain. If we can arrest the disease, the patient is most liable to trust in us for the other remedies which will effect a permanent cure. One remedy which I have used largely in my practice is Anti-kamnia Tablets. Many and varied are their uses. I have put them to the test on many occasions, and have never been disappointed. I found them especially valuable for headaches of malarial origin, where quinine was being taken. They appear to prevent the bad after-effects of the quinine. Anti-kamnia Tablets are also excellent for the headaches from improper digestion; also for headaches of a neuralgic origin, and especially for women subjected to pain at certain times. Two Anti-kamnia Tablets give prompt relief, and in a short time the patient is able to go about as usual. These tablets may be obtained at all druggists. Ask for A-K Tablets. They are also unexcelled for headaches, neuralgia and all pains."

ment went strangely hand in hand in Peter's mentality. It was not difficult then, during the lull of the artist's brain, for the farmer to come readily into activity.

When the shrubbery had been trimmed the trees in the orchard came next. Peter Perkins was companioned and served only by old Gregory, who was both an intelligent gardener and a handy man about the house.

"No social intercourse and no pottering with paints. Remember that!" had been the doctor's parting words to Peter "for one year at least." And so Peter had foregone the pleasure of seeing even Doris Brown, the girl whom he had almost definitely fallen in love with, and he had locked up his paints and brushes in the attic room and had bravely given the key to old Gregory.

"Don't give it to me—even if I fire you for not doing so," he had commanded Gregory, and the old man kept the key.

Before the cold weather came the cowshed was mended, the chicken coops whitewashed and a cockerel and some fine hens added to the meager flock, and all other preparations for an excellent springtime were made. The poor little rabbit was given a mate, and that being the last of the domestic arrangements among the Stanwood house and Gregory turned their attention to their own habitation.

During the winter months they painted every inch of the interior of the Stanwood house and mended roofs and draughty doors and windows. Creeping vines were trimmed so that with the springtime rosebuds would seek admission to the old living room with its great stone fireplace and lofty ceilings.

It was not until the arrival of spring, when the verdure was brilliant and the fruit blossoms in full and odoriferous bloom, that Peter really threatened Gregory with dismissal.

"It's a chance in an artist's life," he stormed at the imperturbable servant. "Those blossoms are perfect—there never was an orchard so beautiful. I could win a thousand dollar prize with just a small sketch." His tone had become somewhat wheedling.

"The blossoms'll be out again next year," was all Gregory said, and Peter raved in vain for the keys to his paints and brushes. He eyed Peter with a glow of pride. Somehow he felt responsible for the glow of health that was slowly progressing in Peter's body.

with bovine contentment. "Think of the fine milk that will be wasted. You and I can't get away with it."

Everything that Peter and Gregory touched multiplied with astonishing rapidity. Each accused the other of possessing a weird charm with growing things. With the development of vegetables and fruits, to say nothing of the barnyard of prolific hens and Nancy's rich milk, the question of disposal of produce became an imperative one.

Old Gregory, however, had a scheme up his worn sleeve, but he kept it to himself until he had made a round of all the small cottages that surrounded the farm. They were tiny bits of property owned and inhabited largely by young married couples with small children. It was not easy to provision the homes with fresh vegetables and the grounds did not permit of gardening. The suggestion that Gregory made to those housewives was that he supply them with eggs, chickens, fruits and vegetables at a nominal price. Housewives one and all flew to the rescue of Peter and Gregory, and considered themselves very lucky in obtaining farm products so close to their own doorsteps. The question of milk was difficult, as Nancy might not supply an entire community, and one and all wanted Nancy's rich milk.

"It means," laughed Peter, "that Nancy will have to occupy a smaller portion of the shed. We will have to get a couple more like her." He eyed Gregory for a moment very thoughtfully. "You know, of course, Gregory, that I am not going to take the profit from this business. No, I am not," he added swiftly, seeing the incredulity in Gregory's face. "You are going to take a certain per cent, but all the rest is going into that hole in the old chimney corner against the time Miss Stanwood returns. You see, it is really her farm and—"

"A pretty farm it was," said the old gardener disgustedly, but with added affection in his eyes for Peter. "Nevertheless the cow, the chickens, the orchard and all are really belonging to her. You see it—do you not Gregory?"

"Yes, I suppose I do," grumbled the old man, and turned away lest Peter Perkins see that which had risen in his eyes.

Suffice to say the Stanwood farm became a paying proposition that quite exceeded the dreams of the temporary owner. The hole in the chimney corner was stuffed with bills and silver, and the day came when another brick had to be dislodged and another bank started.

The brushes and paint had been taken from the attic room, and Peter revealed anew in the blossoming orchard and his loved art. One or two marvelous sketches found their way into the New York shops.

Peter had regained health, both mentally and physically, and it was a most attractive looking artist who looked up suddenly one sunny day in early spring to see a wood nymph standing gazing admiringly at his canvases.

His brushes were suspended in the clear air, so lovely was the girl. Her wide head seemed made to shelter the beauty of her oval face and her deep blue eyes held a hint of fear in them. She would have fled save that Peter stopped her.

"If I could put you in this picture," he suggested, frankly, "I could most probably make several thousand dollars from the canvases."

The girl blushed shyly and drew a trifle nearer. There was awe in her glance. The orchard, as it appeared on the canvases, seemed to breathe of spring and to sway with the breeze. Certainly the petals were fluttering down.

"It would be a pity," she said softly, "to hold myself responsible for so great a loss to you. Since I am boarding in the Rose cottage it will give me pleasure to pose for you for a few moments each morning."

"Hours!" breathed Peter eagerly.

It so happened that old Gregory was left with more work on his hands than on the days before the nymph had arrived. One day he peered through the branches of the trees and gave vent to a low whistle when his eyes rested on Peter's model, Madge Stanwood, the last of the old family, was standing beneath a gnarled apple tree while Peter's brushes were rapidly sweeping her image onto the canvases. There was that in the eyes of Peter, and it reflected itself in the eyes of the girl, which made old Gregory laugh softly. Love in its most wonderful form was making the spring a Paradise.

At that very moment of old Gregory's musings Peter Perkins had said, "Wonderful girl!" in an awed and breathless tone, and Madge had returned softly:

ALLEGED GRAFTER ON TRIAL

SIoux CITY, Iowa, April 9.—Frank Pierce, former chief of police, went on trial before District Court Judge John W. Anderson here today on an indictment charging that he received bribes to protect illegal saloons, gambling houses and "red light" resorts. Pierce resigned under fire and a citizens' committee is circulating a recall petition aimed at John Deneen, superintendent of the department of public safety. Scores of witnesses have been summoned for both sides of the Pierce case.

BLACKHEADS GO QUICK BY THIS SIMPLE METHOD

Blackheads—big ones or little ones—soft ones or hard ones—on any part of the body, go quick by a simple method that just dissolves them. To do this get about two ounces of powdered norexin from your druggist—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly for a few seconds—and wash off. You'll wonder where the blackheads have gone. The powdered norexin and the hot water have just dissolved them. Pinching and squeezing blackheads only open the pores of the skin and leave them open and unsightly—and unless the blackheads are big and soft they will not come out, while the simple application of norexin and water will solve them right out, leaving the skin soft and the pores in their natural condition. You can get powdered norexin at any drug store and if you are troubled with these unsightly blemishes you should certainly try this simple method.

RAILROADS AND SPEED MURDER

The Nelson case, in which a North-western engineer was acquitted by a coroner's jury of criminal liability for the killing of a man, Nelson, at a railroad crossing, presents an old and intricate problem.

The railroad men admitted that they were exceeding the speed limit provided in the ordinance by about eighteen miles an hour. It was customary, and they had made that time daily for thirty years. In a way, they were under orders from the company to do so, for while speed on specific stretches was not specified, the schedule as a whole could not be kept without exceeding speed limits in towns and cities along the line.

The view of the jury was plain. To punish the engineer would not have reached the source of the offense. The real culprits would have hired another engineer and continued to violate the law. The new engineer would have taken his chances on speeding rather than lose his job. To make a poor working man the "goat" would have been inflicting a penalty devoid of justice and empty of remedy.

Yet Nelson is dead by reason of a violation of the law, and every day trains on all lines are jeopardizing human life in defiance of statutes and ordinances. Nelson's family can secure redress in a civil suit, but they cannot recover the life that is lost or secure safety for the public.

The problem is broader than the Nelson case, which is but an incident in a general situation. Mr. Schlach, the district attorney, has begun an investigation of that condition as it affects La Crosse county, with a view to suitable action to compel law enforcement. Of his plan and his method we know nothing, but we have faith that the former will be ample to the end and the latter will be effective. The railroads will be obliged to respect law in this county.

A KEY TO GOOD LUCK

Is success "luck"? According to the president of the great telegraph company, it depends upon what may be called "stimulated luck," i. e., the art of taking prompt advantage of opportunities. The telegraph man says, for instance, that he has conscientiously kept himself in good condition of body and mind, so that when opportunity came he would know it and be ready, adding: "There have been great sick men, but most great men have been well. Edison is well. Probably none of the many victors of Roosevelt's career was harder won than his victory over physical weakness." Certainly the victory over self is the initial victory. He knew this who wrote that the man who ruleth his spirit is greater than he that taketh a city. After self-conquest, the habit of industry is conquerable. William Cobbett, the self-made journalist who came to America in the early days and made a name for himself as "Peter Porcupine," offers testimony to this effect in his diary when he writes at an inn: "Weary of being idle. How few such days I have spent in my whole life." Cobbett thus records another secret of his triumph over circumstance.

Scores of gentlemen have at different times expressed to me their surprise that I was always in spirits, that nothing pulled me down; and the truth is that, throughout nearly forty years of troubles, losses and crosses, assailed all the while by numerous and powerful enemies and performing labors greater than man ever before performed; all those labors requiring mental exertion, and some of them mental exertion of the highest order; the truth is that throughout the whole of this long time of troubles and labors I have never known a single hour of real anxiety; the troubles have been no troubles to me; I have not known what lowness of spirits meant; I have been more gay and felt less care than any bachelor that ever lived. "You are always in spirits, Cobbett!" To be sure, for why should I not? Poverty I have always set at defiance, and I could, therefore, defy the temptation of riches.

We have defined worry as "diseased thought." Cobbett's mind was essentially free from this poison. Is not almost every man whom we describe as "lucky" equally free from it?—Collier's Weekly.

CELEBRATE LEE'S SURRENDER

DES MOINES, Iowa, April 9.—Complying with a general order from Colonel David J. Palmer, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, old soldiers all over the country are busy today celebrating the surrender of Lee to Grant just fifty years ago. In many places, according to reports received by Colonel Palmer, other patriotic societies are assisting in the celebration.

TO INVESTIGATE RECEIVER

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 9.—The United States district court late today removed James H. Cassidy, former congressman, as receiver of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh Coal company and directed an immediate audit of his books. Attorney Carl D. Friebohn was named receiver. Cassidy could not be found in Cleveland this afternoon.

TEUTONS HOLDING BIG RUSS AREA

BERLIN, wireless to Sarville, L. I., April 9.—The Austro-German armies in Poland now hold nearly 20,000 square miles of Russian territory inhabited by 55,000,000 subjects, according to a semi-official statement given out here today.

The Berlin statement that territory now held by the Austro-Germans is populated by 55,000,000 subjects of the czar is plainly an error in wireless transmission. The entire population of Poland is estimated at less than 20,000,000.

Who Thought It Would Come to This?

The latest song hit! "I Did Not Buy My Ford to Be a Jitney." Here 'tis: I didn't buy my Ford to be a jitney; I bought it just to be my pride and joy. Who dares to place a sign upon its windshield: "A Jitney for a ride from town to field." Let other auto owners run their old machines. My Ford is for my own and private use. There would be no jitney bus today if owners all would say: "I didn't buy my Ford to be a jitney."

The man from Ruralville was on his first trip as a "drummer." The waiter brought in the meal—the food in numerous little side dishes dear to restaurant keeping—and arranged the dishes around the suburbanite's plate.

With the wondering waiter eyeing him, Johnnie sat for awhile looking at the untouched dinner. Then he called: "Look here, waiter, if you don't hurry up and bring my dinner I'll eat up your samples!"

A Georgia magistrate was perplexed by the conflicting claims of two negro women for a baby, each one contending that she was the mother of it. The judge remembered Solomon, and, drawing a bowie knife from his boot, declared that he would give half to each.

The women were shocked, but had no doubt of the authority and purpose of the judge to make the proposed compromise. "Don't do that, boss," they both screamed in unison. "You can keep it yourself."

The customer in the grocery store, having ruined his clothes, was hoping mad. "Didn't you see that sign, 'Fresh point'?" asked the grocer.

"Of course I did," snapped the customer; "but I've seen so many signs hung up here announcing something fresh which wasn't that I didn't believe it."

A little girl traveling in a sleeping car with her parents greatly objected to being put in an upper berth. She was assured that papa, mamma and God would watch over her. She was settled in the berth at last and the passengers were quiet for the night, when a small voice piped: "Mamma!"

"Yes, dear."

"You there?"

"Yes, I'm here. Now go to sleep."

"Papa, you there?"

"Yes, I'm here. Go to sleep, like a good girl."

This continued at intervals for some time, until a fellow passenger lost patience and called:

"We're all here! Your father, and mother, and brothers, and sisters, and uncles, and aunts, and first cousins! All here! Now go to sleep!"

There was a brief pause after this explosion. Then the tiny voice piped up again, but very softly.

"Mamma!"

"Well that God?"

Valuable Item for Men

Health and strength hither-to unknown will be felt surging in rich red blood through the arteries and veins and life's greatest ambitions may be realized as never before. If the following special treatment is followed by those men, and women, too, who are stricken with that most dreaded of all afflictions, nervous exhaustion, accompanied with such symptoms as extreme nervousness, insomnia, cold extremities, melancholia, headaches, constipation and dyspepsia, kidney trouble, dreadful dreams of direful disasters, timidity in venturing and a general inability to act naturally at all times as other people do. Lack of poise and equilibrium in men is a constant source of embarrassment even when the public least suspects it. For the benefit of those who want a restoration to full, bounding health and all the happiness accompanying it, the following home treatment is given. It contains no opiates or habit-forming drugs whatever. Mix it at home and no one will be the wiser as to your affliction.

The treatment is simple, thorough and correct. Leading druggists supply the main tinctures, extracts and essences in one-ounce bottles, ready to mix. Get three ounces syrup sarsaparilla compound, mix with one ounce compound fluid balmwort, and stand two hours. Add one ounce compound essence cardiol, and one ounce tincture cadomene compound (not cardamom). Shake well and take a teaspoonful after each meal and one at bedtime.

The ingredients are used for various prescriptions.

minutes past his allotted time, and still showed no signs of exhaustion. Feeling thirsty, he reached out for the water carafe, but found it empty. Motivating to the usher to have it filled, he would have proceeded with his speech but for an interruption.

A member in the back seat rose and waved his arms excitedly. "I protest, Mr. Chairman," he said, "I protest." "Protest against what?" asked the chairman. "Running a windmill with water," was the reply.

A Philadelphia school teacher has lately been instructing her pupils in Grecian mythology. It is the plan to have the children read the tales aloud, and the next day recount them in their own language. One lad, to whom was given the assignment to render in his own language the story of the Gorgons, did so in these terms:

"The Gorgons were three sisters that lived in the Islands of Hesperides, somewhere in the Indian ocean. They had long snakes for hair, tusks for teeth and claws for nails, and they looked like women, only more horrible."

It was a little country town and Mr. Goodman, excellent citizen and kind hearted man, allowed himself, much against his will, to be elected to the mayoralty chair for the fourth year in succession. After the event he met Jones, an enthusiastic though rather dense admirer, who shook him warmly by the hand. "I'm right sorry, Mr. Mayor," said the worthy man, "that they've putten on you the trouble of officiating for another term, with all your many calls and worries of business. A far worse man would have suited us."

WILSON MEETS SLAV ENVOY

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Inter-est in the proposed new trade treaties between the United States and Russia was keen again today, following Ambassador Bakhmeteff's conference Wednesday night with the president. The conference was believed to have related either to a resumption of trade relations between the countries or to the inspection of Siberian prison camps.

BURY LINDSEY BILLS

DENVER, Col., April 9.—The anti-Lindsey bills in the legislature were practically killed today by being buried under a long list of special orders. The enemies of the famous juvenile court judge now have a slim chance of ousting him before the legislature adjourns on Saturday.

"You are a liar and a coward. I warned you once, and I warn you again. It would be far better for you to be dead than that you should drag her into misery and disgrace. She believed in you—"

"Believed?" The hesitancy passed from Arnaud's face. He leaned forward; his eyes alight and deadly with some sudden flash of intuition. "You have seen her?"

"Yes."

"You have spoken with her?"

"Yes."

Arnaud burst out laughing. He turned and, catching the Jewess in his arms, kissed her savagely. "Good night—good night! This gentleman is sending me home, petite. He does not approve of either of us." He laughed and flung her from him so that she stumbled against the table. "That's my answer, Farquhar," he said coolly. "Good night."

Some one touched Farquhar on the shoulder. He turned.

"Ah, you, Gotz!"

"Yes. Who was that you were speaking to just now?"

"Captain Arnaud."

"You know him?"

"In a past life—yes."

"As a friend?"

"I think not."

"That's to be regretted. Come, we must be getting off. It's near midnight."

He slipped his arm through his companion's.

At that moment an Arab, who had been loitering in the background, his dirty burmosee drawn over his face, slipped past them and disappeared into the shadows.

CHAPTER IX

At the Villa Bernotto's.

"I look well, though, don't I, Miss Smith? White is, after all, the most becoming. But one must have a good skin. Mine is still quite smooth. No one would think I had been a year in this dreadful place, would they?"

"No," was the calm answer.

Sylvia Arnaud considered herself for a moment longer in the glass. A delicate smile of satisfaction played at the corners of her mouth. Then her eyes wandered past her own reflection to that of her companion behind her. Miss Smith, in a pearl gray dress of severe cut, was absorbed in the arrangement of three red roses taken from the grate cluster lying on the table. Her appearance was more than usually uncompromising. The soft brown hair had been dragged back and smoothed into order with a merciless hand, leaving the small oval face without a softening line. Sylvia laughed gaily. The contrast with her own radiant femininity pleased her; moreover, she found something genuinely and pathetically ridiculous in the prim figure.

"Sometimes I really think you are not a woman at all, Miss Smith," she said quizzically. "You might be a little gray witch without any feeling of any sort. Don't you love beautiful things—wouldn't you like to be beautiful yourself?"

"Very much."

"Then why don't you try?"

"The odds against me are too heavy, Madame Arnaud."

Sylvia had taken up one of the silver candlesticks and holding it above her head, glanced for a last time at her slender white-robed figure in the long glass. The subdued light threw shadows into her face and lent her beauty a delicate, indescribable pathos.

"And now I am ready."

Outside in the quiet street her husband awaited them with the carriage. He saluted gravely.

"We shall be late," he said. "The Villa Bernotto's lies well outside the walls."

"What does it matter?" she retorted. "The whole garrison is invited. We shall not be missed." And in the faintly emphasized pronoun there sounded a petulant indefinable reproach.

Captain Arnaud made no answer. In silence he assisted them into their places, and in silence they drove rapidly through the awakening town. The great evening promenade had begun, and like some gaudy Babylonian phantasy the mingled nationalities drifted beneath the brilliant lights, rubbed shoulders, drank together under the awnings of the cafes, yet never touched hands over the invisible gulf of hatred. For once Gabrielle Smith paid no heed. In her immediate surroundings there was another acuter disunion which left her restless and disturbed. She glanced from one companion to the other. Sylvia Arnaud ostensibly watched the crowd, a rather vacant smile about her lips, but once her eyes flashed over to her husband's face, and in that fleeting interrogation there was fear and distrust. Arnaud remained passive. He seemed not to see her. His arms were crossed carelessly and his features set in white composure.

A second carriage, traveling at a more deliberate pace, blocked the narrow avenue, and they pulled up sharply beneath an overhanging lantern. There was a subdued rattle of arms. Arnaud leaned forward.

"Ah, it's you, Gotz!"

A figure sprang out of the shadow and stood at the salute.

"Yes, my Captain."

"How many men have you there?"

"Four."

"And at the north entrance?"

"None."

"That is a mistake. If there are any marauders about they will choose that side. One man is sufficient here. Have you any one you can trust?"

"No, 4005, my Captain."

"Call him."

"Stand forward—No. 4005!"

There was a brief silence. Arnaud rested his chin in his hand and stared down at the man drawn up stiffly before him. The other hand lay clenched on his knee, and the knuckles stood out white.

"You heard—No. 4005? You will keep guard alone here?"

"Yes."

"Be careful how you answer. You are a raw recruit. It is post of honor."

"Yes."

"It is well. Drive on."

Again the soft clash of steel. Arnaud dropped back in his corner. The light fell on his face for a moment, and Gabrielle Smith saw that he was smiling watchfully at the woman beside her. Sylvia had not moved. She had not even glanced in his direction or at the man to whom he had spoken. Her lips were still parted in the childish expression of wondering anticipation, and her eyes glistened. Arnaud laughed and turned away from her.

FARMERS SOON TO PLANT CROPS

Next Week Will Be Busy One for Northwest Farmers if Warm Weather Rules

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 9.—(Special.)—Farmers everywhere in the northwest will be seeding next week, if warm weather rules from now on, and notwithstanding some delay, due to wet fields, the 1915 grain crop will be planted under highly favorable conditions. Many farmers, who last fall prepared the soil after taking off the 1914 crops, are ready to go on the ground for spring work, says the Van Dusen-Harrington crop report, the first of the year, issued today.

Spring has been backward and farmers have been unable up to this time to get into the fields, generally speaking. In Minnesota and South Dakota some seeding has been done, and elsewhere there are isolated cases of seeding, but the heavy snowfall of the late winter has disappeared slowly from the fields.

"We know of no district in our territory which at the present time has not enough moisture to start the crop," says the report. "The delay in spring work is not sufficient, in our opinion, to cause any anxiety."

Mayo Committee Named

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 9.—(Special.)—Investigation of the Mayo proposal, with a special view to ascertaining its exact terms was decided upon by the state senate today by adoption of a motion by Senators Frank E. Putnam of Blue Earth and Oluf Gjest of Montevideo.

The senate committee on public health today voted to indefinitely postpone Senator J. W. Andrews' bill, which would require clergymen or others to furnish the state board of health with duplicate certificates of all marriages performed.

To Hunt Germ Carriers

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 9.—A bill appropriating $2,500 to the state board of health to investigate persons who are believed to be carriers of typhoid fever germs was introduced in the house yesterday by Representative C. F. Neitzel of Bird Island and referred to the appropriations committee.

MADISON, Wis., April 9.—(Special.)—President Wilson sent a note of hearty appreciation to Secretary of State Donald in acknowledgment of the legislature's adoption of a resolution of respect and sympathy in his neutrality policy. In his letter dated from the White house Monday the president wrote:

"My Dear Mr. Secretary: May I not express to you, and through you to the Wisconsin legislature, my very hearty appreciation of the generous words of the joint resolution of which you have sent me a copy? It heartens me greatly to know that I have your sympathetic approbation and good will, and I thank you and all concerned very cordially. (Signed) 'WOODROW WILSON.'"

The message will be transmitted to the legislature next week.

THIRD REGIMENT'S NOTED BAND HERE

Famous Military Musical Organization Which Is Pride of State Militia to Be at Majestic

The famous Third Regiment band, the pride of the state militia for the last eight years, will be the chief attraction at the Majestic theater for the first half of next week. The band, which is stationed at Viroqua, is now serving its third enlistment, and its personnel has not changed to any great extent in the last fifteen years. It numbers among its musicians members from many cities of the state who have moved from Viroqua, but who have retained their coveted positions in the famous band. The band has played in Milwaukee, Muskegon, O. G. Brown. It has developed, making a yearly concert tour. It is well known in La Crosse in particular, having made many trips to the interstate fair and other public occasions here.

Famous for its military work, the band this year has opened up a new field under the leadership of Chief Musician O. G. Brown. It has developed a long program of concert numbers, which will make its first appearance in La Crosse. The program is on the popular order, interspersed with novelties, solos and descriptive selections. For its four day engagement at the Majestic a different program will be given every day.

Other vaudeville acts will accompany the band on the program.

FORMER RICH MAN DIES IN CHEAP HOTEL

CHICAGO, April 9.—Relatives from Kansas City today claimed the body of Wiley C. Cox, formerly one of the wealthiest men in the middle west, who died last night at a cheap priced outlying hotel, practically penniless.

Cox was president of the Kansas City State bank in 1906, when it went into voluntary liquidation through the failure of a bank at Clinton, Mo. Cox, although not legally bound, paid dollar for dollar with $90,000 he received for sale of Indian lands. Paying up left him penniless.

He was an investigator for the federal commission on industrial relations.

If death loves a shining mark it's up to some men to wear wigs.

'SPEEDING UP' HIT BY LABOR HEAD

Bonus System for Fast Work Scored as Breaking Down Human Machines

CHICAGO, April 9.—Employers' mania for more speedy and greater outputs is one of the 'underlying causes of industrial unrest, in the opinion of A. O. Wharton, president of the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor as expressed today to the federal commission on industrial relations.

Bonus systems for efficiency and greater speed in mills and shops, with the subsequent physical breakdown of workmen before they have reached the age of 40 came in for a heavy scoring at his hands. The bonus system was especially flayed.

"The American workman," he said, "has no quarrel with employers who speed their machines to their utmost capacity for a few years until they break down and are thrown on the scrap heap. But they most certainly have when the same system is inaugurated among flesh and blood machines. Many employers refuse to hire men over the ages of 35 and 40, because they are already practically on the scrap heap. Some call it 'scientific management,' which gets this greater speed. It isn't, for it defeats its own ends."

PATRIOTIC PAGEANT AT LEXINGTON, MASS.

LEXINGTON, Mass., April 9.—Plans for a great patriotic pageant to be held here in June to celebrate the commemoration of 100 years of peace between England and the United States will be made here at a meeting tonight of the promoters. Best Laxative For Children

When your baby is cross and fretful instead of the happy, laughing little dear you are accustomed to, in all probability the digestion has become deranged and the bowels need attention. Give it a mild laxative, dispel the irritability and bring back the happy content of babyhood.

The very best laxative for children is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, because it contains no opiate or narcotic drug, is pleasant tasting and acts gently, but surely, without griping or other distress. NEW COMMISSIONER KEEPS UP THE BAR

No Slackening of Requirements of Dairy and Food Board in State Under Geo. J. Weigle

DENIES HE'S EASY MARK

Much Incensed Over Sale of Improper Foods Under Belief He Would Allow Their Retailing

MADISON, Wis., April 9.—There will be no dropping of the bars against adulterated food in Wisconsin with the new administration of George J. Weigle, dairy and food commissioner who has succeeded J. Q. Emery with the accession of the Philip regime. Mr. Weigle made that plain today.

"When I came into office," he said, "the impression had been given out that I was an easy mark. The first week I was here, my office was full of representatives of large corporations ready for the word. I gave them to understand that I would be as hard a customer to handle as my predecessor. Last week a salesman for a large Chicago mail order house sold more than 25 grocers here in Madison preserved cherries with the understanding 'that it was all right.' I have notified that house that unless this sale is immediately stopped there will be a prosecution on the part of the state on every count."

Mr. Weigle wants more inspectors, also. Discussing this, he said:

"The much heralded claim that Wisconsin leads all other states in the quality of its butter is not true. Both Minnesota and Iowa lead the Badger state in this respect. While the creamery butter of Wisconsin brings better prices on the market than that of other states, the uniform run of our product is not of the highest standard and does not bring the highest prices. The reason for this is lack of education among our farmers. With our present inspection force, it is impossible to better the situation. I am asking the legislature for an appropriation of $90,000. This is an increase of $30,000 over last year and if our requests are granted, we hope to add from 15 to 20 more inspectors to our force."

Against Label
 "A great deal of attention has been devoted to the idea of labeling all of our butter 'Wisconsin brand,'" said Mr. Weigle. "At this time such a move would be folly. When a business firm advertises a special brand as the best obtainable it is only when the standard quality of the product is the highest. Wisconsin butter today does not merit that distinction."

"I attended the convention of the National Buttermakers' association at Des Moines last month," continued Mr. Weigle. "The lowest score of Minnesota products was 92 per cent; Iowa street next with 90 per cent; and Wisconsin third with 87 per cent. The Gopher delegation numbered 198. Wisconsin had only four. This same indifference is indicative of the general attitude throughout the state on this question."

"If I am granted the increased force, I will redistrict the state from a standpoint of getting the best results from inspection work. At the present time there is too little care of raw material and cleanliness in handling."

WILLARD KEEPS UP TRIUMPHAL MARCH

New Heavyweight Champion Is Due in New York for a Series of Exhibitions

BY HAL SHERIDAN
 (United Press Staff Correspondent.)
 NEW YORK, April 9.—Reports reaching here of Champion Jess Willard's trip through the Carolinas and Virginia told of the continuance of his triumphal progress from Havana.

New York fight fans were seething with excitement today over the advent of the new champion. Promoter Jack Curley arrives here tonight to prepare for a hip-hurrah reception. Willard is due in Baltimore late this afternoon and will give an exhibition there. He will arrive here tomorrow evening. Films of Willard's victory will not be allowed to enter New York port. United States District Marshal declared the films could not be brought in at any port, because of the federal law prohibiting importation or interstate transportation of prize fight movies.

REAPER COMBINE J. P. MORGAN IDEA COURT IS TOLD

U. S. Chief Justice White Brings Out Fact by Questioning Attorney Arguing Case

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The Harvester combination was not the harvester people's own idea—it was J. P. Morgan & Company's. This statement was made by John P. Wilson, an attorney for the company in the course of the harvester trust argument in the supreme court this afternoon.

Chief Justice White brought it out by questioning Wilson.

"You said that it was desired to expand and that you went to Morgan," said the chief justice. "Mr. McCormick went," replied Wilson, pausing in his argument. "The inference," said the chief justice, "was that he went to obtain money for this great expansion, to take care of the world's business. Somewhere in this argument I want a statement of the conditions that made it necessary to take in all of those concerns rather than to borrow money for this individual concern (McCormick & Company) whereby it could expand."

"McCormick did go to Morgan relative to money for his own concern," Wilson answered. "The balance," he added, "was the outcome of that inquiry—a development."

NEW FIELD FOR PRESS AGENTS

CHICAGO, April 9.—If you have ever been in a campaign manager's candidate's "headquarters," just before election, a definite idea can be garnered of the headquarters of railroad attorneys, statisticians, witnesses and press agents during arbitration time.

Since it has become a part of the railroad manager's daily work to testify before interstate commerce commissions and state railroad commissions and make speeches to commercial clubs in behalf of in defense of railroads, the press agent is a necessary adjunct to railroading.

Chicago has two headquarters for railroad arbitrators. One is in the Federal building, where a half dozen typewriters are clipping all day long, turning out copy. The other is in a suite of rooms at the LaSalle. Besides the press stenographers there are private secretaries to the counsellors and the railroad officials attending the hearing have a stenographer, too.

The "headquarters" is completely organized, circus-like, it is ready to move at short notice. Wherever arbitrating is on the press agent and his retinue are likely to be called.

UGH! NOT CALOMEL, OIL OR SALTS, TAKE "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS"

Delicious "fruit laxative" cleanses stomach, liver and bowels

A harmless cure for sick headache, biliousness, sour stomach, constipation, indigestion, coated tongue, sallowness—take "California Syrup of Figs." For the cause of all such misery comes from a torpid liver and sluggish bowels.

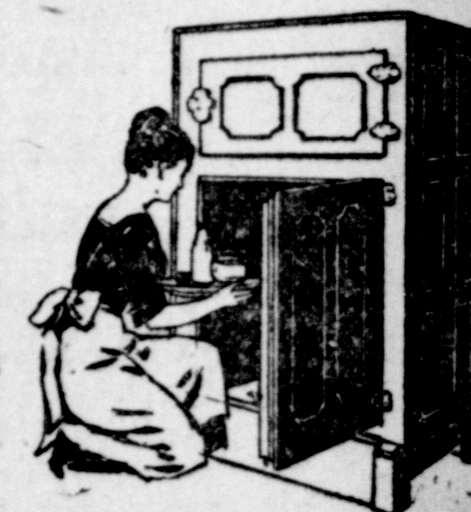

A tablespoonful tonight means all constipation poison, waste matter, fermenting food and sour bile gently moved out of your system by morning without griping. Please don't think of "California Syrup of Figs" as a physic. Don't think you are drugging yourself or your children, because this delicious fruit laxative can not cause injury. Even the most delicate child can take it as safely as a robust man. It is the most harmless, effective stomach, liver and bowel cleanser, regulator and tonic ever devised.

Your only difficulty may be in getting the genuine, so ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." This city has many counterfeit "fig syrups," so watch out.

Ho Farmers! Take a Look At These Cows

Forty-five and six-tenths pounds of butter fat was produced by a Holstein cow owned by Manly Libakken, member of the La Crosse County Cow testing association last month. The cow produced 1,139 pounds of milk during the month.

A Guernsey cow owned by Ole C. Hanson produced 1,139 pounds of milk, although the actual number of pounds of butter fat dropped below that of the cow owned by Libakken.

Other cows testing high last month were owned by Peter Larson, Albert Anderson and Arthur Mittleman.

JOHNSON CANNOT GET PASSPORTS

Secretary Bryan Instructs U. S. Minister at Havana Not to Give Fighter His Papers

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Secretary Bryan today instructed Minister Gonzales, at Havana, not to issue a passport to Jack Johnson, as the latter had been convicted of a felony and is a fugitive from justice.

It was understood from Havana dispatches that Johnson had already received a passport, that Gonzales had demanded its return and that Johnson refused.

The state department's understanding, however, was that he had none. At all events, it considered him entitled to none, and if one was in his hands, proposed to insist on its withdrawal.

FRENCH BARK WITH GRAIN CARGO SUNK

Blue Funnel Liner Enroute to Java Is Also Chased and Shelled by Submarine

LONDON, April 9.—Sinking of a French bark, laden with grain and an attack upon the Blue Funnel liner Theseus, from Liverpool to Java, were German submarine activities reported here today.

The tug Homer, arriving at South Shields today, reported that while towing the French bark Colonel Frons, off St. Catherine's Point yesterday, she sighted a German submarine rushing down on her through a heavy sea. The Homer cut loose and attempted to ram the submarine, but missed.

The submarine shot one torpedo at the tug, but missed. She then sent the bark to the bottom.

The report of the attack upon the Theseus reached here from Liverpool. The liner was chased 60 miles by a submarine off Bishop Rock light-house on March 29, while enroute to Java and today reported back to her owners.

The submarine hit the liner with five shells which did considerable damage above the water line, but none of the crew was hurt.

TWO ARE MENTIONED FOR COUNCIL HEAD

Aldermen Houska and Torrance Suggested as Candidates for Presidency of New City Body

CITY ENGINEER IS UNOPPOSED

Mayor-elect Refuses to Commit Himself on Appointments but Points to His Platform

Alderman William Torrance, president of the city council, and Alderman Joseph C. Houska, former council president and dean of the aldermen, are the two men spoken of for president of the new council which will organize April 20.

Houska has served in the city council for 18 years and is the oldest alderman from point of service. Alderman Torrance was mayor, for four years, but his aldermanic record is comparatively short. Sentiment in the council is split between Torrance and Houska.

So far no new candidate for city attorney has presented himself. J. E. Higbee, present attorney, is favored by many of the aldermen and is also understood to have the support of the new mayor, although Mr. Bentley refused to declare himself today.

Bradish is Unopposed

Mayor-elect Bentley is said also to favor the retention of George P. Bradish as city engineer, which is one of the appointments that devolves upon the mayor subject to the confirmation of the council. No other candidate for this position has been announced.

Mayor-elect Bentley was seeking legal advice today. "I don't know exactly what my duties are and am going to have a conference with the city attorney before I make any statement," said Mr. Bentley. "I have very few and insignificant appointments to make and these will not be ready for announcement before the organization meeting. I am going to live right up to my pre-election statement and will consult with the councilmen in the naming of committees."

BRINDLEY STARTS WAR ON BAR MEN WHO VIOLATE LAW

Warrants Requested of District Attorney for Dealers Who Sell Liquor to Posted Men

Wholesale arrests of persons disobeying the city ordinance against selling liquor to "posted" men and those breaking the state law prohibiting the sale of liquor to minors, are promised by District Attorney Otto M. Schlabach. His campaign may result in a cleanup of startling character.

Warrants for the arrest of several La Crosse saloon keepers, one druggist and a wholesale firm, alleged to have sold whiskey and alcohol to posted men, will be issued this week at the request of Judge Brindley. At the same time, it is probably a warrant for the arrest of a town of Rockland saloonman, charged with having sold liquor to two boys under the ages of fifteen years, will be taken out.

County Judge John Brindley has information that the La Crosse charges grew out of the testimony of Carl Sill, aged 63, arraigned recently before Judge Brindley for intoxication. The man gave the names of several, he said, who had been selling him liquor. Other witnesses gave similar testimony.

County Judge John Brindley has information which, he says, will result in the conviction of several. "I am assured," he said, "that the laws against selling liquor to posted men and minors is being disregarded. The practice must stop. If it is necessary, those arrested will be made examples of."

SORENSEN SPENT SMALL AMOUNT IN LAST CAMPAIGN

It cost Mayor Ori Sorensen $38 to be defeated for mayor according to his final campaign statement filed today with the city clerk. Mayor-elect Bentley according to statements filed with the clerk had spent $157 when he filed his last statement, and his final statement is still to come.

Many campaign expense statements were filed today. Edwin McFarlin, who made the run against E. H. Hoffman for city clerk, spent $2.31 for printing and literature.

Cameron L. Baldwin, who was elected justice in the sixteenth ward, didn't spend a cent. Neither did Alderman W. J. Rice in the Fifteenth ward, Alderman Arthur L. Schulze in the Fifth, Joseph Dubraks, justice of the peace in the Tenth ward, or Alderman Torrance in the Sixteenth.

A well known resident of La Crosse is a competitor for a place in the Hall of Fame through the publication of two of the season's latest songs, "The Lark's Farewell" and "Only You and I." Mrs. A. L. Snow, 324 North Eleventh street, is the composer, and the songs were issued by the well known Washington, D. C., publishers, Messrs. Marks & Goldsmith. These two songs not only have rare musical settings, but the words are far above the ordinary, a combination not always found nowadays.

TODAY'S ODDEST STORY

BUTTE, Mont., April 9.—Fearing he would see someone he liked better while he was in Alaska, a young woman forced Charles Hyland to enter a contract to marry March 1, 1918, providing he matches her $5,000 with an equal sum. The latter provision was Hyland's, who did not want to accept any money from his bride-to-be, and was going to "make his pile in Alaska. He gave her a plain gold wedding ring to be worn for the first time March 1, 1918, if he is successful in his chase for gold. The authorities would not reveal the girl's name.

THE HEADACHE OF NERVOUS EXHAUSTION

A feeling as of a tight band about the head is often felt in addition to the pain of a headache that is caused by nervous exhaustion. The ache is generally in the back of the head, rarely in the forehead, and is often accompanied by dizziness.

The way to stop this sort of headache is to stop the cause of it. Overwork, worry and failure of the blood to properly nourish the nerves are the most common causes. Rest and a tonic for the blood and nerves will cause the headache to disappear in most cases.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an effective tonic for building up the blood and strengthening the nerves. They furnish just the elements that the blood needs to build up the nerves shattered by overwork, worry, overstudy or excesses. You cannot always rest from school, office or household when circumstances require but you can always take a tonic that will maintain the strength of blood and nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are just the tonic required.

Mention this paper and we will send you a booklet, "Diseases of the Nervous System" free. Address: Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

REV. FINWELL BIG CARD ON MONDAY

Famous Scandinavian Pastor and Lecturer Promised Warm Reception in La Crosse Next Week

La Crosse anticipates a treat Monday night, when C. W. Finwell, famous Chicago pastor and Good-fellow, will address an audience at the First Baptist church.

Reverend Finwell has won national fame by reason of his cleverness and intellectuality, and has become a powerful influence in his chosen field of endeavor. A Scandinavian, he is especially loved by citizens of Scandinavian ancestry, but he is too big to be confined to a nationality—he belongs to America, to the whole world.

Reverend Finwell is small in stature, but a tower of strength. He has a happy method of address and is given to epigrams that "reach the spot." Occasionally he turns one of these points of boiled-down philosophy in Norwegian, to the delight of his audience.

Reverend Finwell's name is well known in La Crosse. In Chicago it is a household word, for there he has talked in practically every church in the city, and it is a precedent for the mayor to select him as the orator for all Scandinavian fete days.

Since his lecture here will deal with the country of his nativity, "The Land of the Midnight Sun," Scandinavians of La Crosse are especially interested. Prominent citizens are spreading interest in the lecture and the selection of the First Baptist church is due to its central location, handy to people of both the north and south sides.

Seven Year-Old Clifford Mercier

Read His Story

During a recent interview, Mr. Joseph Mercier, of 253 Walker street, Lowell, Mass., said to the writer: "My little boy, Clifford, seven years old, has taken Father John's Medicine whenever he had a cold or cough, ever since he was two years old, and it has never failed to give good results. He used to cough badly at night and he does not do it when we give him Father John's Medicine. We believe that Father John's Medicine gives him increased weight and strength. We strongly recommend Father John's Medicine to mothers of children who are weak and run down."

BRIDE KIDNAPPED AT POINT OF GUN BY TRIO OF ROBBERS IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, April 9.—Staggering into the Lake street police station today, pretty Anna White, a bride of three weeks, told a story of having been waylaid, robbed and forced at the point of a revolver into a room in Washington boulevard by three young highwaymen.

After the girl had been given restoratives, she told the police that the men captured her as she left a moving picture show about eleven o'clock last night. She was permitted to go at 6 this morning, when she knelt before them and told a story of having to go home "to her sick baby," promising to return.

A squad of reserves rushed to the room and arrested two young men who were identified by Mrs. White as her assailants.

Brewery Driver Who Took Three Year Old Son Into Liquor Dispensaries Is Divorce Defendant

Chiefly because Henry Senn would not let his wife bring her two small children up in accordance with her religious views, and because he took his three year old son Matthew into saloons with him repeatedly, Mrs. Katherine Senn, 929 Redfield street, is asking for a divorce.

Mrs. Senn alleges in her complaint filed by Attorneys Mahoney and Schubert with the clerk of the court this morning, that her husband was often cruel to her and that he drank continually.

She asks that her two small children be given into her custody. Senn is a truck driver for the John Gund Brewing company.

MOVE HOTEL DE GINK TO FARM DE GUMP

NEW YORK, April 9.—The "Hotel de Gink," Gotham's famous hobo hostelry, closed its doors today. Its foyer, spacious lobby, card and checker room, grill and kitchen were stripped of furnishings. Guests and out-fittings were transplanted to a Bensonhurst farm and a new summer home for wayfarers, called the "Hotel de Gump," opened. "Gump" means "chicken" in the vernacular of the road, according to Jeff Davis, presiding genius of the project. The "boes" will raise chickens this summer, use of the farm having been donated.

BANS HABITS WHICH SIDETRACK KISSES

CHICAGO, April 9.—A girl should veto drinking and smoking because the two habits interfere with promotion of love by kisses, according to Dr. Alfred B. Westrup, 76, who returned today from his third honeymoon. Dr. Westrup is the author of "Plenty of Money," and a book on sex. He believes in marriage ceremonies only because it's against the law not to go through with them. His wife, who was Miss Maud Dennig, sex lecturer, holds the same view. She is 38.

Here are Dr. Westrup's rules for wooing:

"Be perfectly frank and have no secrets.

"Caress one another during courtship to learn whether suited in magnetism and nature.

"Be liberal, if a girl—with plenty of men.

"Test the congeniality by the touch of hands—often—before marriage."

My husband bought me a bottle of it and it helped me right away. Then after my second child was born I had a female trouble very badly and I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and in a short time was cured and have been in excellent health since. I always praise the Compound whenever I have an opportunity as I know it helped me and will help others. I have given the Compound to my daughter and I wish all suffering women would take it and be convinced of its worth."

—Mrs. JAMES A. BEIDEL, 113 N. Penn Street, Shippensburg, Pa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

'WETS' AND 'DRYS' TO FIGHT FOR THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY

Anti-liquor Forces Led by Bryan Expected to Try to Line Up the National Committee

WOULD SMOKE OUT PRESIDENT

Wilson Has Refused to Discuss
Question and Is Said to Consider It a Local Issue

BY JOHN EDWIN NEVIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, April 9.—The anti-liquor forces expect to capture the democratic national committee immediately after the next democratic convention. Secretary of State Bryan's declaration that all national committeemen should be anti-liquor men was accepted in political circles today as the opening gun in the wets' and the drys' battle for the national democracy. Dry advocates freely claimed that President Wilson will be compelled to take a positive position on this question as soon as congress reconvenes, if not "smoked out" sooner.

Wilson is Silent
The president has refused thus far to discuss the liquor question. At the White house today, it was said he would not comment on the letter Bryan sent to L. W. Kennington of the Iowa state committee, declaring that whoever is chosen successor to Judge Martin J. Wade as Iowa national committeeman should be an anti-liquor man. It was stated, however, that there was no reason to believe the president had changed his mind since writing as governor of New Jersey, in answer to a request to define his position on the local option question, that he considered the liquor problem a moral question which should be decided for each community as it thought best, declining to admit that it was a political problem of the sort to be dealt with in a party platform.

It is reported in administration circles that the president couples woman's suffrage and prohibition in his mind. He has declared he believes suffrage a question for each state to decide for itself, while favoring the general principle, he does not believe the federal government should settle it. In the case of prohibition, those closest to him before, he likewise believes each state should decide for itself.

The drys' plan, as outlined here today, is as follows:
"In states where the liquor interests essay to control the democratic organization, a wet and dry issue will be raised prior to the election of delegates to the national convention. Where the national committeeman is elected by primary vote, an avowed dry candidate will be nominated and supported. This will be true especially in the middle west. Where the delegates to the national convention elect, efforts will be made for a dry majority, that a dry national committeeman may be chosen."

The drys already feel confident of dry national committeemen from most of the southern states. The big fight will be in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, the Dakotas and possibly Pennsylvania. Bryan is expected to take the stump in such states as have advisory primaries. It is expected he will make an especial drive against Indiana and Illinois, controlled respectively by Tom Taggart and Roger Sullivan.

LT. LEO MUELLER SERVED FOR YEARS WITHOUT DAY OFF

La Crosse Member of Coast Guard Service Tells of Cruises Within the Arctic Circle

Three years' continuous service on the Pacific coast guard cutter "Bear" without a day's leave of absence is the record of Lieutenant Leo Mueller, who is visiting at the home of his sister, Miss Norma Mueller, 626 Cass street. Lieut. Miller is on a sixty day furlough, at the end of which he will report at Atlanta, Ga., for service on the coast guard cutter, "Yamacraw."

"The revenue cutter service and the life-saving service was recently combined by congress into the coast guard service," said Lieut. Mueller today. "The Yamacraw, one of many cutters named after Indian tribes, will be used in standing by and assisting vessels in distress, blowing up derelicts, enforcing navigation laws and patrolling the steamship courses to search for ice bergs. The last item of work was instituted after the "Titanic" disaster. The saving of life and property at sea is also an important part of the duties of the cutters."

Cruiser in Bering Sea
Mueller has been in the service since 1908, at which time he entered the coast guard academy at New London, Ct. He received the commission of third lieutenant January, 1911, and was assigned to duty aboard the cutter "Apache" on Chesapeake bay. He was ordered to the cutter "McCulloch" at San Francisco in April, 1912. He boat made one cruise to the Bering sea. Later in the summer it took the Alaskan railroad commission on its tour of inspection of Alaska.

In March, 1913, he was ordered to the "Bear," which since that time has made two cruises to the Arctic seas.

"Bear" Goes to Nome
The boat leaves San Francisco about May 1 each year with eight months' provisions. It stops at Seattle to take on mail and after coal, makes a trip across the Pacific to Unalakleet. From there it goes to Nome, arriving about June 1, the first vessel to reach Nome after the ice goes out. Last year the Bering sea at Nome was found full of ice, it being necessary to land the mail over the ice with dogs and sledges.

Lieut. Mueller is a member of the Polar Bear club, an organization composed of men in the coast guard service who have been north of the Arctic Circle.

TURKS BRUSH WITH BRITISH ON CANAL

CAIRO, April 9.—A small body of Turkish cavalry exchanged shots with British troops a few miles northeast of El Kantara, 28 miles south of Port Said on the Suez canal yesterday, according to official dispatches today. The British suffered no losses. English airmen reported the cavalry evidently was a reconnoitering detachment and was unsupported by other troops.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Thickness
and Lustre at Once.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

Wonderful Blood Remedy That Works in the Tissues

The Very Latest Theory About How and Why the Blood is Disordered.

S. S. S. Means Pure Blood Which Insures Long Life and Health.

The great experts in Chemistry and Physiology now declare what has all along been contended by the Swift Laboratory that the germs of blood disorders find lodgment in the interstices of the tissues.

And herein is where S. S. S. goes to work rapidly, effectively and with wonderfully noticeable results.

This famous blood purifier contains medicinal components just as vital and essential to healthy blood as the nutritive elements of wheat, roast beef, and fats and the sugars that make up our daily ration.

As a matter of fact there is one ingredient in S. S. S. which serves the active purpose of stimulating each cellular part of the body to the healthy and judicious selection of its own essential nutriment. That is why it regenerates the blood supply; why it has such a tremendous influence in overcoming eczema, rash, pimples, and all skin afflictions.

And in regenerating the tissues S. S. S. has a rapid and positive antidotal effect upon all those irritating influences that cause rheumatism, sore throat, weak eyes, loss of weight, thin pale cheeks, and that weariness of muscle and nerve that is generally experienced by all sufferers with poisoned blood.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. at any drug store, and in a few days you will not only feel bright, and energetic, but you will be the picture of new life.

S. S. S. is prepared only in the laboratory of the Swift Specific Co., 201 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Who maintain a very efficient Medical Department, where all who have any blood disorder of a stubborn nature may write freely for advice.

AMERICAN AND BRITISH FORMS OF ARMY SERVICE ARE PRAISED BY TENNANT

(NOTE—The Right Honorable J. Tennant, British parliamentary undersecretary for war, is Lord Kitchener's official spokesman in the house of commons. The following interview is, therefore, of peculiar interest, particularly since it indicates Tennant's approval of the American system of a volunteer army.—Editor.)

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD.

(United Press Staff correspondent. Copyright, 1915, by the United Press. Copyright in Great Britain.)

LONDON, April 9.—America is right in not having a great standing army, made up of men forced into the service. America is right in not demanding that all her young men shall give the best years of their lives to military service.

America is right in going on about her business, depending upon the expectation that, when war does come, her voluntary system can be depended upon.

These are the conclusions that Americans may draw from this statement from the British war office, made to the United Press today: "Unprecedented strains have been put upon the voluntary system in this war, and it has triumphantly withstood the ordeal."

"England and America are the only two first-class powers in the world that follow the voluntary system—the system of keeping militarism in the background and depending, in a pinch, on having their citizens come forward, voluntarily, to serve the country."

The statement was given me by the right Honorable Harold J. Tennant, parliamentary undersecretary for war, the official spokesman of Lord Kitchener on the floor of the house of commons. When you ask Harold J. Tennant questions about the war and the war department you're meeting him on his home ground. He's the minister whose duty it is to tackle the tornadoes of inquiries that are asked by members of the commons; Lord Kitchener answers questions in the house of lords.

Kitchener and Tennant Close Friends

One of the best features of the British war office administration since the war began has been the close co-operation between Lord Kitchener and Mr. Tennant. They are personal associates. When Mr. Tennant, some days ago, conformed to the latest usage in London society by acquiring a pair of horn-rimmed spectacles, Lord Kitchener followed suit. And when Lord Kitchener imitates a man, that man must be a respected friend. What Harold Tennant doesn't know about government affairs from Lord Kitchener, he is likely to get from Sir Edward Grey, England's foreign secretary. During the strenuous days of the war it has been Sir Edward Grey's sole relaxation to go to his club nightly and play a game of billiards with Tennant.

Mr. Tennant began the interview by asking me a question.

"What do you think," he said, "is the feature of our military policy which is most interesting to Americans?"

It came to me to ask him about the voluntary military service which only England and America, of all the first-class powers, have dared to follow. The other great nations must force military service in the greatest war in history, and I thought America would like to know how the voluntary system was standing the strain. "Unprecedented strains," said Mr. Tennant, "have been put upon the voluntary system in this war; it has had to undergo a much more severe trial than ever previously contemplated and it has triumphantly withstood the ordeal."

Talks on Territorials

"Take first the territorial force," said Mr. Tennant. The territorial force, it may be explained, corresponds to the American militia. "There were roughly, at the beginning of the war a quarter of a million of soldiers in that army, a good many thousand below its paper strength."

Of these some had been enlisted for some time and had gone through the required drills and training in camp. Others, who had enlisted more recently, had done no more than a fortnight's camp training, and some of them had done not even that. On the fourth of August, therefore, when war was declared, it stood upon its trial."

Apply this same description to the American militia and you can read the same significance of Mr. Tennant's description in terms of American military problems.

"We have now been nearly eight months at war and nothing has happened to necessitate our calling upon the territorial force to perform the service for which it was originally intended—that is, to protect the country from invasion."

"What has happened then, to the territorial force?" I asked.

It was, at the beginning of August, some thousands below its paper establishment. It is now more than double what it was originally intended to be. We have territorials to the total number originally provided for, all of whom have volunteered for foreign service; and, as a second line to those, we have under training a complete second territorial force consisting of regiments, battalions and so forth, corresponding to the units of the original force. Other units are also being raised.

Valiant in Service

"Territorial regiments and divisions are already serving abroad in India, in Burma, in Egypt, in Malta, and in Gibraltar. Months ago territorial regiments were sent to the front and very greatly distinguished themselves. Their work has been highly praised in Sir John French's dispatches. The casualty lists in the recent battle of Neuve Chapelle show that territorial regiments were in the very front of the fight. The Sixth Gordons and the Fourth Seaforths—both of them Scottish regiments—in particular suffered heavily. Now we are sending out whole divisions of territorials, so that the army at the front is being reinforced not merely by territorial regiments, but by the territorial force as a military organization. In the meantime the reserve battalions of which I have spoken are coming on fast at home."

Mr. Tennant pointed out that he had emphasized the organization and work of the territorials simply because they were the part of the British military forces about which, before the war, military critics abroad had been most doubtful. The voluntary system had been even more strikingly justified in the case of the new, or so-called Kitchener army, which is enlisted on the basis of service for three years or for the duration of the war, and is recruited to fight in any part of the world.

"To understand," he said, "the significance of the voluntary system in time of war you have to realize the difference between the new armies and the regular army which has so brilliantly upheld its splendid traditions, and which is and will remain the backbone of the British expeditionary force."

"In peace the regular army competes with other forms of employment on what may be called the ordinary plane of industry. Its men are drawn from the class which is looking for work, and which, if it does not go to the army, will go into one or the other of the trades. The moment war was declared an entirely different section of the population was tapped.

"You must have read in newspapers and seen jokes in Punch about recruits whose wives get separation allowances, but who actually have incomes of several thousands a year and keep motor cars. These stories are literally and absolutely true. The new armies are a cross section of the population. They contain the best men from every stratum, from the laborer to those who used to be called the idle rich."

"I had a man in here to see me the other day; he was home on short leave from the trenches. He has to my knowledge, private means of 10,000 pounds a year, yet his wife draws her separation allowance each week, like the wife of any other private. All these men have gone in voluntarily and because of that, because from each layer of the population we have educated men and men who have enlisted because they are enthusiastic for the vindication of our cause, these armies have been trained much more rapidly than would otherwise have been possible."

"And, you know, we give them the benefit of their training of the experience gained at the front. There is an official issue to officers of the new armies of notes from the front—pamphlets written describing the characteristics of the warfare which the troops will have to take part in, warning them against mistakes and giving them a careful account of the kind of things which the enemy is likely to do."

"These notes are supplemented by lectures which are given to the battalions of the new armies by officers at home on leave or wounded. They are constantly sending over for a few days at a time officers who are training in this country in order that they may take a spell in the trenches and go back and find fresh meaning for their work."

"I had a young officer in here the other day, a subaltern of artillery who had just come back from the front where he had been for a fortnight. He was enthusiastic over the priceless value of the lessons which he had learned in that short time. He seemed to get the knack, he said, of dodging shells."

I asked Mr. Tennant about the question of material to which Lord Kitchener referred in his recent speech.

"We are now prepared," he replied, "to take over factories and to organize the whole industry of the nation for the manufacture of war material, converting for that purpose factories which have machinery suitable for the manufacture of shells and guns, out of their own industry into arsenals for the time being. But I should like you to observe that the equipment of the troops in the field so far has left nothing to be desired, and that if we can only go on as well as we have done in the last eight months, we shall do very well."

"How about the censorship?" I asked.

"We are by nature," said Mr. Tennant, "an outspoken nation, and when at the beginning of the war, we decided we ought to keep silent, we became perhaps more silent than was always strictly necessary. It is wise, however, to be on the safe side, but we are now relaxing a little in this respect, and you will have noticed that our reports of the recent battle of Neuve Chapelle were both immediate and full, and in respect of losses incurred the great detail and more candid than the German report of the same incident."

WINNIPEG, Man., April 9.—The Vancouver Milling company is today working its forces overtime to deliver 2,000 barrels of flour to New Zealand. Wheat movement direct from Saskatchewan to Liverpool has

JITNEYS IN CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Washington soon is to have jitney buses. To meet the problems their coming will offer, the district commissioners have been thinking hard. Licenses will be required and autos attempting to operate without licenses will be classed as "illegitimates" and so treated. Liability insurance may be required. Definite routes will be laid out and the buses required to follow them. It is believed the coming of the jitneys will reduce present congestion on many street railway lines.

Prices No Higher Than For Unguaranteed Brands

Holeproof Hosiery FOR MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN

NEARLY two million men, women and children are wearing Holeproof Hosiery today.

But the guarantee of six months' wear with every six pairs of Holeproof is only one of the reasons for its great popularity.

Another reason lies in the result of the maker's policy of constantly watching the World for every hosiery improvement. And the ability to pay the costs of adopting the best—an ability that is made possible by their great volume of business.

The makers send for the world's finest cotton yarns—Egyptian and Sea Island. They pay for these yarns an average of 74 cents per pound. Common yarn in this country costs 32 cents.

And they have lately imported, at a large expense, a great Swiss machine to do their own mercerizing because this machine adds a beautiful lustre and 22 per cent more strength to the yarn. Don't buy new hose till you see Holeproof. Come see them today.

Week's Offering In Movieland As Seen in La Crosse By N. D. Tevis

Hobart Bosworth, of Bosworth Incorporated, conceded to be more popular than any other actor, with La Crosse moving picture audiences, and the hero of movie productions of Jack Landon's stories, is at the Bijou today in "Buckshot John," a Paramount film.

"Williamson Brothers' "Under the Sea," picture which La Crosse has been patiently waiting for for months, is showing today at the Casino.

In these two pictures, La Crosse theaters have two of the best programs shown simultaneously in one city, and two pictures which have drawn much higher prices in other cities. Films of the last week were excellent. Several lengthy features, now the most popular with movie theater patrons, and short films of value drew large audiences. The advent of real spring weather and the return of Harry Burford, popular manager of the Bijou and Lyric theaters, added "pep" to the doings of "reel land" in La Crosse.

Harry Burford Back
Burford went from La Crosse with the "De Luxe Film Special," a happy trainload of producers and big theater managers on a visit to the west and the exposition at San Francisco. Burford visited film studios at Los Angeles and the lower portion of the "orange" state, and is filled from the tips of his boots to the top of his "Tipperary bonnet" with moving picture ideas.

"Mistress Nell" With Pickford
"Mistress Nell," with Mary Pickford, who never needs an introduction, played to packed houses at the Bijou Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. "Rags," with Mary Pickford again, will be seen at the Bijou in the near future. "Rags" is one of Burford's "finds" and the sensation of the year in the movie world.

"When Rome Ruled"
"One of the greatest pictures of its kind seen in La Crosse," was the way the audiences explained why they crowded the Bijou to see "When Rome Ruled" Wednesday night. While the subject was old, having to do with the persecution of the Christians in the early days of Rome, its execution was such that it drew new interest to the subject.

Gaby Here in Pictures
Gaby Deslys, the girl who was instrumental in overthrowing a kingdom, when King Manuel of Portugal fell in love with her and Gaby left him for a common toreador of Spain, will exhibit her prowess on the screen here next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday in "Her Triumph," an original story of the theater. Gaby is said to have made the biggest kind of a hit in her first production.

Under the Sea via Films
Far under the sea via "filmland" in Williamson's pictures of the true submarine life is the drawing card at the Casino today and tomorrow. Williamson Brothers take you to depths to which the navy craft dare not go.

The mishap of the submarine F-4, a catastrophe which saddened the country, is adding interest to the pictures today. The fact that the submarine tube, constructed by the Williamson brothers in taking their pictures may be used to locate the unfortunate F-4 is leading many here to see its work.

"A new world—under the sea—has been revealed to the wondering eyes of man by the genius and enterprise of two American boys, J. Ernest and George M. Williamson, the sons of Captain C. Williamson, of Norfolk, Va.," said a news dispatch when word that the feat which had been striven for years had finally been accomplished.

Instrument Is Steel Tube
The instrument through which the picture which are being shown here were taken, is a long steel tube, that is shot down hundreds of feet in the ocean from the deck of a steamer. At its end is a ball shaped apartment. One may step from the steamer's deck into the tube, climb down a ladder, and he is only a few inches separated from the life of the sea's bottom, never realized before. Scientists acted like pleased children when they saw the pictures for the first time.

The chamber at the bottom of the tube is fitted with large glass windows for the purpose of observation. Months were required to take the pictures which were the ideal of the Williamson brothers, but they knew what patience was, and they waited, and La Crosse is today witnessing with wondering eyes, their results. The building of the steel tube was a gigantic task. The pressure of the water at the depth which they intended and did go was tremendous—enough to crush the heaviest submarine ever built—but when the tube was built, the Williamson boys found other difficulties. They had to wait for the wonderful forms of ocean life which they show.

Man Kills Shark
The killing of a huge man-eating shark, native of the South seas, by a man who has only a small knife with which to defend himself, is probably the most thrilling sight ever seen in La Crosse in moving pictures. Other parts of the picture are the strangest things ever seen—the picture is truly that of another world.

"The Hard Road," a three-reel Victor picture far above the average of the ordinary screen plays, and a humorous picture were the attractions yesterday.

The Lyric is showing a four-reel attraction tonight and Saturday. "The Lost Ledge," which bids well to be a winner. "The Counterfeit," and one of those ever funny K. O. pictures, "The Lost Haul," are also on the program.

TOM M'DONOUGH IS ACCUSED OF KICKING TRAMP

Police and Fire Commission in Receipt of Charges by John Mulder Alleging Use of Boots

The extent to which a policeman has the right to use physical force in the enforcement of the law, especially as regards tramps and vagrants, will be determined by the La Crosse Fire and Police commission in the near future when it reviews charges filed yesterday against Patrolman Thomas McDonough of a north side precinct.

McDonough is said to have used his boots in the enforcement of the law when he emphatically urged a tramp to get out of town near the north side railroad yards. Complaint against him has been filed by John Mulder, north side grocer.

Mulder's charges were served on the commission late yesterday. He asserts that on April 1, between the hours of 8 and 9 o'clock in the morning, McDonough was guilty of conduct unbecoming an officer "in that he did then and upon a public street of La Crosse, Wis., brutally assault, beat and kick a prisoner, then in his custody."

The victim's name is not mentioned in the complaint, but he is said to have been a tramp, who has since departed on his wanderings.

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying powers are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them wilfully with narcotics.

Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

BRITISH DENY CHARGES OF GERMANS CONCERNING FALABA

Admiralty Official Statement Denies That Liner Torpedoed With Loss of 100 Carried Guns

LONDON, April 9.—The admiralty has issued an official statement regarding the torpedoing of the liner Falaba, with the loss of 112 lives to refute the statement issued by the German embassy at Washington.

The admiralty denied that the Falaba carried any guns. It was stated that the five minutes intervening between the submarine's warning signal and the explosion of the torpedo was insufficient to permit the passengers and crew to escape. Furthermore, it was stated, the submarine's commander shot the torpedo at short range, knowing that great loss of life must result.

PRISONERS RAKE COURT HOUSE YARD

The proposed plan of Supervisor W. E. Barber, to use county prisoners for public road work, was slightly varied today, and tried on the lawn surrounding the court house.

Work on the planting of flower beds will be started in the near future.

Stage Reaches 7.9 Feet; Is Highest Mark for Years According to Rivermen Here

With a stage of 7.9 feet, the Mississippi river is at one of its highest points in years for this time of the year. The lowest stage registered this year was 3.5 feet. The rise of the Mississippi has resulted in the raising of the water level of swamps and sloughs along the river. The marsh between the north and the south sides of the city is a lake, barely one reed or brake marring the surface.

STICKS UP CHURCH ELDERS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., April 9.—F. E. Hims walked into the study of Rev. Phil Baird where he and eight directors of the First Presbyterian church were holding a meeting. Hims pulled a pug-nosed gun from his pocket and said:

"Gentlemen, I have a very unpleasant duty to perform. I want your money and I want it quick."

Rev. Phil Baird walked deliberately up to the gun and said: "Wait my dear man. You probably need money but I will help you get it honestly. I will get you a job."

Hims, a college man who later admitted having served time in a New York workhouse, wanted his money on the spot. He said he had not eaten food for twenty-four hours. When finally the minister had talked him into putting away the gun, the meeting took up Hims' case.

Every man present pledged himself to keep the facts secret to save Hims.

Hims broke his promise to the minister and also lost the job the elders obtained for him. A week later he appeared at a church entertainment with the same business-like gun. A second time they made him put away the weapon. But while Rev. Baird was willing to try religion on Hims again the elders called the police. That's how the story became public.

TUBERCULOSIS OF GLANDS SUCCESSFULLY TREATED

HILDA MINER

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 15.—After suffering 17 years with tuberculosis of the glands, Miss Hilda Miner, 160 E. Market street, Indianapolis, Ind., has recovered, according to her statement. "I am now feeling fine," she writes, "appetite and sleep are good and my stomach never bothers me. I do not notice any symptoms whatever and owe my recovery to Nature's Creation."

Continuing, she states, "When I was nine months old a running sore appeared on the left side of my neck. Several physicians called it scrofula and others called it tuberculosis of the glands. I was also troubled with catarrh. Physicians and their treatment did not do me any good. In May, 1913, I saw an article in the paper how Nature's Creation had cured so many persons of tuberculosis and so began taking the medicine. I was 18 years old and had been sick practically all my life. My appetite was poor, sleep was not good, I was nervous and occasionally had trouble with my stomach. I took Nature's Creation regularly and now the sore on my neck has entirely healed, the first time in over 17 years."

Nature's Creation is effective not only in cases of tuberculosis of the glands, but in all forms of tuberculosis and the conditions which lead to it, such as weak lungs, asthma, bronchitis, catarrh, rundown system and impure blood. Everyone should learn the truth about this remedy, which we will gladly furnish. Write for copy of our new booklet, "Truth," containing photos and testimonials of former sufferers. Address Elmer Hansen, 32 Sentinel Bldg., Milwaukee, Wis. Nature's Creation is not a patent medicine and is not sold in drug stores. Beware of substitutes—demand the original and genuine Nature's Creation. Watch for Nature's Creation testimonials, which will appear in this paper every Friday.

"GANG SHOOTING" CHARGE ON TRIAL

WICHITA FALLS, Texas, April 9.—Sensational possibilities in the trials of Judge E. W. Fry, Pete Fry, R. M. Todd and John Lischke, which opened here, attracted a large audience. The four were indicted in connection with the shooting of Deputy Sheriff Cherryholmes at Graham, last February, when a party of armed, masked men attacked the court house there. Cherryholmes and another deputy were guarding records in the indictment of Judge Fry, new state representative, for alleged embezzlement while on the county bench. Pete Fry, a brother, was afterward found in wounded condition in Judge Fry's house, along with Todd, also wounded, and Lischke.

The case went to Wichita Falls on a charge of venue. Some of the ablest counsel in the state were employed by the defendants. Friends of Lischke, who is an expert locksmith, said that he was hired to go to Graham and open a safe. They assert he was innocent of any complicity in the attack on the court-house.

"CITY BEAUTIFUL" WORK IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, April 9.—When God gets ready to establish a paradise on earth He will come to Chicago, according to Mrs. S. H. Newton, chairman of the Municipal Art league's committee to beautify the city's streets. Mrs. Newton proposes to make Chicago the most efficiently productive city in the world and to have gardens growing on every vacant lot.

Mrs. Newton has a creed with but one article. And that binds the subscriber to the belief that trees should grow before every house, that every vacant lot should produce vegetables and flowers, and that plants should grow wherever there is room enough for them to take root.

Instead of being for the "city beautiful" plan, Mrs. Newton insists on a city productive program. She favors municipal condemnation of houseless lots upon which there is no cultural vegetation.

"Over in Germany they have no vacant lots," she said, "and it is my plan to Germanize America—so far as vacant lots are concerned. Why give unemployed soup tickets? Why not give them work improving vacant property?"

BILL TO BRING FAIR TO MADISON MEETS APPROVAL

Plan to Unite Exposition with University Has Gained Friends
in State

MADISON, Wis., April 9.—(Special.)—The Caldwell bill to create a "State Board of Varied Industries," which was recently introduced in the assembly and which will be up before the committee on state affairs shortly, is creating a great deal of interest and receiving considerable favorable comment over the state.

This bill proposes to bring the state fair to Madison and to make the fair buildings part of the university equipment; to erect a county exposition building in which every county is to be allotted space to display the natural resources of the county and which is to be in charge of the immigration commissioner; and to appoint a non-salaried board to have charge of an annual exposition to be known as the "Wisconsin exposition of varied industries."

Board of Nine
According to the bill, the new board would consist of nine members; five to be appointed by the governor from the state at large and one to be elected by the board of university regents. The dean of the college of agriculture, the superintendent of farm institutes and the business manager of the university would be made members ex-officio of the board.

They would have the power to sell the present state fair property at West Allis, and to use the funds derived from the sale for the erection and equipment of buildings adjacent to or upon the grounds of the university for joint use by the university and the annual exposition. The bill further provides that all buildings for the athletic department at the university and all agricultural and livestock buildings be constructed with due consideration to the greatest public utility.

Could Be Used All Year
The present state fair grounds are used not more than two or three weeks a year. Under the new plan they would be in use every day in the year. The development, control and maintenance of the grounds and buildings used for these purposes would be subject to regulation by the board and the board of university regents, which in turn would be subject to the approval of the governor.

The annual fair, or exposition, according to the bill, would last not less than 10 days and not more than two weeks and be held sometime in September. During this time all the different departments of the university, capital and historical museum would be thrown open to the public and arrangements made for an explanation of the services rendered therein made to every citizen interested.

This bill incorporates the idea advanced before by Secretary of State Donald.

GLEE CLUB SINGS TO LARGE NUMBER AT SPARTA ARMORY

SPARTA, Wis., April 9.—(Special.)—The concert given by the Ripon College Glee club at the Armory last night was appreciated by a large number. The concert was without a doubt one of the best entertainments of its kind Sparta has had the privilege of hearing.

The baritone solos by W. M. Lucas and the bass solos by Frederic Lueck were especially appreciated.

A musical farce, "The Maid of Philadelphia," in which Hugh Fanning, a former Spartan, was "The Fair Bulgarian," was something unique.

Another unique feature of the program was the "Ripon International Overture," in which Wales, France, Germany, Denmark and America were represented in native songs and costumes.

Mrs. O. S. Gustad, who has been visiting at the home of her son in Lanesboro, has returned to Sparta.

Mrs. Ross Randall and daughter of Joyce, Iowa, are visiting at the home of Mrs. T. C. Rice.

Miss Luella Halverson of Mondovi, who is attending the La Crosse normal school, spent last evening with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Struck of Wilton are spending a few days in Sparta with friends.

Miss Dora Brownell returned to her school work in Racine after spending her vacation in Sparta.

Miss Bessie Quail, who has been spending the winter in Colorado, has returned to Sparta for the summer. After spending a few days with her parents in Sparta, Miss Eunice Williams returned to Milwaukee to resume her college work.

Merritt Green of Summit is visiting relatives in Sparta.

Mr. Rosenthal of Plymouth is visiting his son Edgar in Sparta.

Mrs. Green, formerly Mrs. Holcomb of Sparta, now of Edgerton, Wis., is visiting relatives and friends here.

South Court street have been rejected, and the street committee of the common council will take up the job as soon as the season is sufficiently advanced.

After a brief visit in Baraboo, Miss Marie Layden returned to Sparta.

The hearing of O. I. Newton company before the railroad commission for authority to increase its electric rates will be held in the commission's office at Madison on April 20.

DECORAH MAN NOW FAMOUS SINGER HERE IN MUSIC FESTIVAL

Marion Green, the popular Chicago baritone, will be one of the soloists to appear with the Normal Choral society in the Messiah, Monday, April 19.

Mr. Green was born at Decorah, Iowa, and did most of his studying at Dubuque. He has been before the public fifteen years and during that time has risen steadily to fame, having appeared with most of the prominent orchestras and choral organizations in this country and Canada. He has toured with the Chicago Symphony orchestra (founded by Theodore Thomas) six seasons and has twice appeared with the famous Mendelssohn Choir of Toronto, probably the greatest choral body in the world.

Mr. Green has twice appeared in Minneapolis with the symphony orchestra, each time scoring a great success. His most recent appearance was in the performance of Saint-Saens' biblical opera, "Samson and Delilah," given jointly by the Philharmonic club and the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra under the direction of Emil Oberholfer, his work calling forth the most extravagant and dependable artistic work. The Journal says: "Mr. Green made an even more favorable impression with his fine voice and sincere method than upon the occasion of the second Beethoven concert," and the Daily News writes of "the beautifully cultivated baritone of Marion Green."

There is no doubt but what Marion

MARION GREEN

Green will be one of the most popular soloists on the coming tour and no one who is fond of music and beautiful singing can afford to miss hearing him and the other fine artists who are to be with the orchestra.

SUNDAY ROUSING PATERSON

PATERSON, N. J., April 9.—Billy Sunday is "getting 'em." Despite reports of Sunday's revival being a "frost," all Paterson admitted today that Sunday's dramatic preaching was popularizing the sawdust trail of conversion. The Tabernacle bulged yesterday with record breaking crowds—with offerings on the same scale. He has talked to 53,000 persons already in eight meetings.

A good business opportunity also depends a good deal on who takes advantage of it.

War Oddities

LONDON.—There is one section of the Anglo-German battle front where there was no Christian truce. A letter written by a German officer to the British battalion occupying that particular line, a copy of which has just reached London from the officer who received it, explains the reason.

"Gentlemen," wrote the German, "you asked us yesterday temporarily to suspend hostilities and to become friends during Christmas. Such a proposal in the past would have been accepted with pleasure, but at the present time, when we have clearly recognized England's real character, we refuse to make any such agreement. Although we do not doubt that you are men of honor, yet every feeling of ours revolts against any friendly intercourse towards the subjects of a nation which for years has, in underhand ways, sought the friendship of all other nations, so that with their help they might annihilate us; a nation also which, while professing Christianity, is not ashamed to use dum-dum bullets; and whose greatest pleasure would be to see the political disappearance and social eclipse of Germany."

"Gentlemen, you are not, it is true, the responsible leaders of English politics, and so are not directly responsible for their baseness; but all the same you are Englishmen whose annihilation we consider to be our most sacred duty. We therefore request you to take such action as will prevent your mercenaries, whom you call 'soldiers,' from approaching our trenches in future."

ENGLAND HONORS ALBERT

SMITH COLLEGE CELEBRATES

Good Word for Rabelais.

"Ah!" cried Rabelais, the promoter of coarse laughter, proudly viewing the lachrymose friends around his deathbed, "if I were to die ten times over I should never make you cry half so much as I have made you laugh." So you see old Rabelais, though you may question the taste of his celebrated laugh treatment, was some doctor.

Educational Limitations.

A small boy asked his father the meaning of equinox, and received this answer: "What in the world do you go to school for? Don't you study mythology? An equinox is a mythical animal, half horse, half ox. The name is derived from the Latin 'equine,' horse and 'ox.' Dear me, they teach you absolutely nothing that is useful nowadays!"—Atchison Globe.

CHILD ACTORS ARE HIT OF THE BILL

J. C. Lewis Jr. and His Brother and Sister Score at Majestic in Unusual
Playlet

Delighted astonishment greeted J. C. Lewis, Jr., youthful comedian, when he opened his engagement as leading man of "Billy's Santa Claus" at the Majestic yesterday. The youngster was a riot, as were his brother and sister, in one of the most unusual playlets that has appeared at the local house. All the principal parts are carried by three youngsters, and well carried. J. C. Lewis, Jr., is a sturdy rick, with a big voice and either wonderfully well trained or wonderfully observant. He bristled various theatrical foibles of hoary antiquity in a beautiful style, which rocked the house.

The rest of the Majestic bill is clearly up to the high standard which has been set recently. The Capital City trio made a huge amount of fun with some extraordinarily effective comedy to back pleasing harmony singing. One of the trio has a mobile, expressive face across which various expressions chased in rapid and mirthful succession all through the act with disastrous effect upon the seriousness all through the audience. They have a number of good songs, and were generous with two encores last night.

The Ralph-Bayhl company sprung its surprise effectively when F. Ralph lifted a massive tea house containing six persons, a total weight of 1,411 pounds, as the conclusion of a performance in which comedy, weight lifting and singing were most unusually combined. Miss Anna Bayhl has a charming soprano voice.

The Clark sisters delighted the house with their unassuming but monious rendition of a number of popular songs. It was all rag-time work, and scored heavily, for the catchy syncopation was much enhanced by the perfect blending of their two voices.

Miss Bertie Ford, a tight-wire performer of great ability, opens the bill with a succession of unusual feats.

COAL OPERATORS' LOBBYIST HELD FOR BOARD BILL

Sensational Exposures Are Expected of Legislative Activities of Colorado
Mine Owners

DENVER, Col., April 9.—Sensational disclosures of the Colorado coal companies' activity in the legislature in behalf of appropriations reimbursing them for losses they are alleged to have suffered in the recent strike came today in an ordinary garnishee suit against S. A. Coston, lobbyist, for a board bill. Writs were issued to compel the appearance in the case of the leading coal operators in Colorado and before the investigation is over it is believed the greatest sensation in state political history will be sprung. Coston admitted in Judge Wright's district court that he has received $400 since January from the Colorado Fuel & Iron company (the Rockefellers concern), the Southwestern Fuel company, the Empire Fuel company, and the Rocky Mountain Fuel company for pushing their "grab" bills, which now await the governor's signature.

Change of Food Brought Success and Happiness

An ambitious but delicate girl, after failing to go through school on account of nervousness and hysteria, found in Grape-Nuts the only thing that seemed to build her up and furnish her the peace of health.

"From infancy," she says, "I have not been strong. Being ambitious to learn at any cost I finally got to the High School but soon had to abandon my studies on account of nervous prostration and hysteria."

"My food did not agree with me, and I grew thin and despondent. I could not enjoy the simplest social affair for I suffered constantly from nervousness in spite of all sorts of medicines."

"This wretched condition continued until I became interested in the letters of those who had cases like mine and who were being helped by eating Grape-Nuts."

"I had little faith, but procured a pkg. and after the first dish I experienced a peculiar satisfying feeling that I had never gained from any ordinary food. I slept and rested better that night and in a few days began to grow stronger."

"I had a new feeling of peace and restfulness. In a few weeks, to my great joy, the headaches and nervousness left me and life became bright and hopeful. I resumed my studies and later taught ten months with ease, using Grape-Nuts every day. I am now the mistress of a happy home, and the old weakness has never returned."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

MAY DODGE SUBPOENA

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 9.—Officials of Marion county expected today there might be some difficulty in obtaining service of a grand jury subpoena on Crawford Fairbanks, the millionaire Terre Haute brewer and democratic leader. It became known late yesterday that the grand jury had called him to testify as to the reported influx of Terre Haute repeaters here for the recent primary, which has been under investigation by the grand jury.

TODAY'S ODDEST STORY

JOHN DAY, Ore., April 9.—Juvenile wrath grew hot when Principal E. S. Stutz of the John Day grammar school ruled that "m-u-l-l-e-n" is the correct spelling. It came out at a recent orthographical contest. Next day the adherents of "mullen" waylaid Stutz, "bombed" him with eggs and drove him back to his boarding house. Parental apologies followed as many spankings and Professor Stutz has agreed to referee another spelling bee.

JOHN AS WELL AS PERCY WEARS HIS WATCH ON WRIST

War Has Proved Timeliness of the Wristlet Tick-tock with Hands Tipped with Phosphorous

BY MARGARET MASON
(Written for the United Press.)
"Watch your step," may be a watch-word
In the good old U. S. A.
But its "watch your wrist" in London
Where you pass the time of day
On every hand
Along the Strand
Piccadilly or Kingway.

LONDON, March 22—(By Mail to New York.)—These are pulsing times in England. Hence the wrist watch reigns supreme. Every blooming Britisher you meet has one up his sleeve. They're bound to hit the States soon with an awful wallop. Oh! yes; I know Harold and Clarence and the rest of the big boys have been wearing them for many months. But over here it is the big brave husky Johns that are sporting the wristlet tick-tocks as well as Cyril and Percival. It will probably take a big brave man to start the fad in New York too.

Like all the other new fashions nowadays the present wristlet watch is a result of the war. Unlike the majority of our fashions it has the distinction of possessing useful sensible, necessary and, to say the least, timely characteristics as well as tocks.

The watches with the luminous dial and hands are especially handy for night wear. Their hands are tipped with phosphorus or radium as they lightly call it over here, and Tommy Atkins lying in the dark trenches instead of feeling the moments drag by with leaden feet can now watch them tick by with light hands. Every fighting man wears one of these illuminated and illuminating wristlet time pieces. They are part of his regular kit and built according to army specifications. They are neat, small, unadorned affairs of silver, gun metal, nickel or gold to suit your whim or your pocketbook, and they are slipped into the narrow unobtrusive wrist strap of leather which fastens as securely and inconspicuously as possible. The straps of mouse grey undressed leather are perhaps the most popular as well as the best looking and you can become the proud possessor of one of these timely conceits for as little as one pound or five dollars of regular money.

Our American correspondents have already succumbed to the alluring charms of the wristlet watch and are bound to import them to our masculine midst and forearms.

SPOTLIGHTS

JOHN DREW

John Drew's visits are always theatrical events of extreme interest and importance and the announcement of his appearance at the La Crosse theater tonight is a very welcome one. Double interest attaches to his present engagement since he is to be seen here in the famous revival of "Rosemary," in which he has been appearing at the New York Empire theater, his metropolitan engagement having been one of the present seasons most notable events. The revival of the popular comedy was brought about by innumerable requests received by Mr. Frohman during the past two or three years and the acclaim and praise with which the present performance has been greeted would seem to prove that the delightful play by Louis N. Parker and Murray Carson has lost none of its appeal or charm. "Rosemary" was first produced by Mr. Drew over sixteen years ago, when he was seen in the role of Sir Jasper Threlkeld, in New York city, for twenty-two weeks, appearing in the same role later throughout the country for a year and a half. The play is also memorable since it paved the way to stardom for Maude Adams and supplied Ethel Barrymore with the first important role she ever portrayed.

"PEG O' MY HEART"

That delightful play that captivated theater goers of New York for two years will be seen in this city at the La Crosse theater on Tuesday, April 13.

Oliver Morosco has been very careful in the selection of players for this fascinating comedy, and the best of the traveling organization will be seen in this city, headed by Elsa Ryan.

"THE FUGITIVE"

The first performance of "The Fugitive" pleased another large audience yesterday afternoon at the La Crosse theater. "The Fugitive" (played by Mr. Hastings) is a victim of circumstantial evidence, and from the time he is accused of murder by Edward Manchester (Mr. Fontaine), until he is vindicated, interest runs high. Miss Eleanor Foster as the girl who stands by the man she loves in spite of all, was good, and wore some pretty gowns. Mr. Raleigh Dent gave a wonderful performance of the tramp, and it goes without saying that Clifford Hastings was excellent. Beginning next Sunday matinee, Mr. Ryan will present Paul Armstrong's greatest play, "Alias Jimmy Valentine."

WHITEWATER GOES WET

Why Doctors Say "Oranges"

There is hardly a physician practicing today who doesn't advocate the eating of oranges.

- 1st, because oranges have a beneficial effect on the blood, keeping it pure and clean. This is especially necessary during the spring and summer months.
- 2nd, because oranges act as a mild and pleasant stimulant for the liver. A disordered liver changes one's whole outlook on life.
- 3rd, because oranges contain just the right amount of fruit acid to keep the digestive organs in proper working order. Oranges help the digestion of all other foods.

"Whys" of Moves in European War

NEW YORK, April 9.—11 a. m.—Reports in Paris that the Austrian emperor has agreed to the transfer of Trentino to Italy are probably correct. Paris naturally would be inclined to disbelieve all such rumors, unless the basic fact were well substantiated. The disadvantage to the allies' cause which would follow the purchase by Austria of Italy's neutrality is sufficiently obvious to suggest that Paris would suppress all versions of negotiations unfavorable to the allies, as long as any good purpose could thus be served.

The fact that the French censor has allowed a report of the Trentino transfer after the war to be telegraphed abroad; and the added circumstance that Parisian sources of international news vouch for the truth of the statement, suggest the rumors may be correct. During the past week, too, a sudden stoppage seems to have been put on news of the Trentino bargaining hitherto garulously telegraphed broadcast from Rome. This, in itself, might be a bad sign, if negotiations had reached a critical impasse; or a good sign, if negotiations were reaching a satisfactory conclusion. Paris inclines to the latter view, and is probably justified in doing so.

If Italy has sold her neutrality for the Trentino, an admirable bargain has been struck. By going to war against Austria and Germany, Italy might have succeeded in obtaining Istria with all of Austria's principal seaboard ports; but it is questionable whether the peace conference would have ratified the Italian seizure, and even if it had, Italy would be continually threatened thereafter, by an Austrian war of revenge.

While Austrian prestige suffers through the cession of the mountainous and interior Trentino, no permanent and irreparable injury is done to the dual monarchy such as would follow the loss of her northern Adriatic seaboard. Hence by clinching her future control of Istria, Austria has come well out of the bargaining.

By making terms with Austria and Germany now, Italy may lose an opportunity to extend her influence in Asia Minor. If the Italians were to enter the war with the allies, the Roman government might be able to obtain not only the Trentino by force of arms, but also a definitely recognized sphere of influence in Smyrna province where Italy's Asia Minor interests center. But the frightful tolls which are being exacted by the present war would probably make the cost to Italy more than a Smyrna sphere of influence is worth.

The value of peace was never more apparent to neutral countries than it is now, and if Italy has obtained the Trentino, while continuing to enjoy the advantages of peace, Roman statesmanship will have gained one of the most notable diplomatic victories of the century. The prestige thus won by her statecraft will elevate Italy to a higher place in European councils than the peninsula kingdom has ever possessed in the past.

Chicago Grain Review CHICAGO, April 9.—Weak cables, general rains, and peace talk today caused an early slump in wheat prices. The opening was lower by 1 1/2, 3/4 and 1/2 cent yesterday's close. Shortly thereafter, however, the bulls romped into the pit and prices rose steadily until May touched $1.45 and July $1.22 1/2. These represented advances over the opening of 2 1/2 and 1 1/2 c.

The bullish demonstration also was seen in corn. Prices sagged at the opening. Later a buying movement sent prices up from 1/4 to 1/2 c above the opening, to 73 1/2 and 75 c.

Oats felt the buoyancy of the other grains after a rather weak opening. There was considerable buying which helped the oats advance. Provisions showed more strength today than for several days. Light receipts and considerable buying were the causes of higher prices.

Factory Sale of Rings

Owing to Dull Jewelry Business a Representative of a Big Providence House Conducts this Sale Tomorrow

As you are doubtless aware—the jewelry business has been hard hit the past few months—most factories are simply "marking time." But one there is—a leading Providence concern—who has found a way out of the difficulty—that's why it's a "leading concern." Their scheme is simple—a representative of the factory comes to the store—bringing thousands of rings—conducts the sale for us on a big scale—sells hundreds—at a marked reduction from real worth. As we said before—it's a simple idea—but it has kept his factory busy—and it gives our customers wonderful bargains.

These Rings consist of Signet, Band and Stone Set and are of Solid Gold, Sterling Silver and Gold Shell

FOR WOMEN, MISSES, CHILDREN AND BABIES.

We want you to see this display—there are any quantities of different kinds of stones—some genuine—and set in a hundred and one fashionable ways. Don't judge them by the price—for this is a real factory sale—and jewelry store prices and profits are not thought of. Tomorrow and all this week—the price is for choice—

Values 50c
to $1.00

REMEMBER—Some Rings are Solid Gold, Some Stones are Genuine. First Comers Get First Choice, which is best.

ROOKIES AND REGULARS

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—The Cardinals won't gambol in the Browns' garden this summer after all. President Britton decided to repair Robinson field and continue playing at home when petitioned by thousands of fans not to change.

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—The Sloc-Feds after a strenuous session yesterday on their home lot and another workout today will leave tonight for Chicago to open the season against the Whales.

LEXINGTON, Ky.—The Indians were nursing a sore disposition today. One Hill, a Chattanooga southpaw, showed them up at the Mountain City yesterday, 5 to 1.

BRISTOL, Tenn.—Manager Mc-

Graw and the Giants arrived here today for an exhibition game with the local team, after defeating the University of Tennessee 8 to 1 yesterday at Knoxville.

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—For the first time this year the Sox will present a line up this afternoon that will be the same as Rowland expects to start the season with. The only position giving Clarence any trouble is third, but probably Jimmy Breton will be asked to serve there.

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—Roger Bresnahan's insistent cry for speed, speed, is having remarkable effects. Yesterday Roger was on second and Big Hippo Vaughn on first. The batter tapped an infield bingle and Hippo passed his manager on the bases. The Cubs lost, 6 to 5.

CHICAGO.—Joe Tinker and his Whales blew back to the home yard today and are all primed for the big opening tomorrow against Fielder Jones' St. Louis aggregation. Claude Hendrix or Rankin Johnson will draw the slab duties for the opener, according to Boss Tinker.

HOME GAMES EACH SUNDAY PROMISED BY CITY MANAGERS

That home games will be furnished La Crosse baseball fans every Sunday of the season is the promise of the managers of the Nelsons, Trainmen and Athletics as the result of the meeting of the managers last night.

With the opening game of the year April 25 between the Nelsons and Athletics, a program of the best of semi-pro baseball will be presented to La Crosse fans.

But, alas! The things we want to do are usually the things we shouldn't.

April 2 has been set as the tentative date for the first game of the year. Negotiations are being carried on with several teams of the vicinity.

HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Opens Air Passages Right Up.

Instant relief—no waiting. Your clogged nostrils open right up; the air passages of your head clear and you can breathe freely. No more yawning, snuffling, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh disappears.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed up with a cold or nasty catarrh.

KEEWATIN LOSES TO PREPARATORY CHAMPS OF SOUTH

MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid Exposure and Eat Less Meat.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water, and above all take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid. Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well. For sale by Chas. Benschlag, druggist, 503 Main street.

GOOD YEAR LOOKED FOR IN TRACK AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

More Than Seventy Men Report for Work in Preparation for Inter-class Meet

Great things are expected of the High school track team this year as there seems to be more interest and support for that sport this spring than ever before. A squad of more than seventy men are out and there are still a number more who are expected to report.

Training for the inter-class meet has started and all will be in readiness in the first part of May for the most hotly contested meet in high school history. The Juniors who, as sophomores, won the last year's meet will have a strong team and are expected to have a good show for the championship. The seniors, however, have a large squad out with two or three sure point winners and are expected to give last year's champs a run for the money this season.

DISTURBER V TO CAVORT ON LAKE MICHIGAN SOON

CHICAGO, April 9.—The Disturber V with an estimated speed of seventy miles an hour, will be churning the waters of Lake Michigan by the middle of June, ready to take on all comers for the motorboat trophy. Its skipper will be Commodore James Pugh, who went to England last season to lift the Harmsworth trophy, and who made the announcement today that his new flier will be the 42-centimetre of the water game.

Many a married man wonders just how small a portion of his earnings he is really entitled to.

BASEBALL SEASON IS OFF FOR SURE AT NORMAL SCHOOL

Twenty Men Report Yesterday to Coach Carter for Early Work; Will Play Inter-class Ball

The baseball season at the Normal school has started in earnest. Yesterday Coach Carter's call was answered by about twenty men who reported for the early season practice. The men showed lots of "pep" for the first practice, Carter being pleased at the turnout.

Only interclass baseball will be followed during the early season with the selection of the Normal team to follow later. The first team will be picked from the cream of the interclass teams. The first of these games will be played Monday when the college men will meet the Physical Education team.

Women scorn muddy crossings as their hosiery will pass inspection.
